

Laird Wants GOP's Platform Honored

Some Candidates Might Be Required to Change Their Political Viewpoint

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. on specific issues and "any individual who does not agree with these policy pronouncements in the platform should not be nominated by the convention delegates."

Laird, chairman of the Republican platform committee, added, "this might require candidates to change their views. This has been done."

He noted in a news conference that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 nominee, and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller had drawn up 14 points for inclusion in the 1964 GOP platform.

Only four were in the platform, Laird said, yet both men endorsed it.

Laird Response

Laird's comments came in response to questions about how the GOP planned to try to reconcile the diverse views of Rockefeller and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, currently the leader in pledged delegates.

Asked if it would be possible for Goldwater delegates to take charge of the 100-member platform committee and write their own conservative platform, Laird said he didn't think this likely.

But he said most of the committee members will be named in late May and early June.

Among those already named to the platform committee, Laird said, are Speaker Joseph Carlisle of the New York State Assembly, a key Rockefeller man, and Sen. John G. Tower of Texas, a Goldwater supporter.

Detergent Foam Going Down Drain

NEW YORK (AP)—That foam on streams and lakes, the suds that sometimes rise in the lower floors of apartment houses, the froth on the glass of tap water in some crowded suburbs—all may be on the way out.

At least that's what the detergent industry is promising—and putting up $100 million to back its words.

New plants to produce a different detergent base, one that won't retain its foam after it's gone down the drain, are rising across the country.

The industry promises that most detergent makers will have the new substance available early next year, and all by the end of 1965.

Wisconsin and some local communities have passed laws saying that the froth-retaining type can't be sold there any more.

The new substance is LAS, meaning linear alkylate sulfonate. The one now used is ABS, standing for alkyl benzene sulfonate. The difference is, that the ABS you're used to doesn't break down readily in sewage treatment plants, or in streams, or in private septic tanks. Hence the objectionable suds where none is wanted.

LAS has a simpler molecular structure, say the experts, that biological action can break down more easily, and thus get rid of that foam which many people rank high on their list of obnoxious water pollutants.

Charles G. Buellman, technical director of the Soap and Detergent Association, said in an interview that all of the industry's raw material suppliers, and some newcomers to the field, have announced plans to build new plants or extensively modify existing ones for production of the LAS type.

The association promises that the housewife will get equally good cleaning performance at no extra cost.

Fish Disorderly

Charley Nall said he was proceeding in his boat through nearby Challoco Bay Sunday when a mullet leaped from the water and smacked him right between the eyes.

Georgia Voting Law Proposal In State Senate

Passage of Bill Adds Thousands of Negroes to Rolls

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A proposed change in election laws that could add thousands of Negroes to Georgia's voter rolls by making it easier to register has been cleared through the State Senate by its lone Negro member.

An amendment offered by Sen. Leroy Johnson of Atlanta—the only Negro lawmaker—in Georgia since Reconstruction, was approved Wednesday by the Senate 35-2. It would simplify questions posed to illiterates.

But House Speaker George T. Smith predicted that it will be at least two weeks before his chamber will get the proposal.

Code Revision

The Senate is not yet a third of the way through the long election code revision, which now includes Johnson's amendment, and the House also must finish work on a proposed new state constitution before taking up the new election rules.

The Johnson amendment provides that registrars approve prospective voters who answer correctly four of six comparatively easy questions. The amendment was substituted for a section that required illiterates to answer 20 of 30 more difficult questions correctly.

Less than one per cent of the Negroes applying under the 30-question standard have been able to register, Johnson said.

Johnson's amendment included these questions: Name the president of the U.S.; the vice president; the two U.S. senators from Georgia; governor of Georgia; members of the General Assembly who represent you, and the sheriff of your county.

Questions Used

The questions now used include:

On what day and how often is the general election held in Georgia at which members of the General Assembly are elected; what is a Republican form of government; how does the Constitution of the United States provide that it may be amended; what does the Constitution of the United States provide regarding the suspension of the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus.

Smith declined to predict how the proposal might fare in the House, but said, "I think the 30 questions are ridiculous and there should be some changes. I'm in favor of something along that line, but I wouldn't want to be stuck with those exact questions before we get a chance to look at it."

However, the rural-dominated House probably will quickly re-burn to the more stringent tests.

Police said the woman refused to obey their orders to move from intersection at 131st Street and Fifth Avenue. ## Western Trade With Communist Rising, But Embargo Holding Strategic Items Listed Under Restricted Exports

BY HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP)—Western trade with Communist nations is slowly and steadily rising, but the Western embargo on exports of strategic items is holding firm, according to the international watchdog group which keeps a close eye on the exchanges.

Exports to the Soviet bloc and China made up 4.2 per cent of the West's total exports in 1961, the last full year for which figures are available.

Imports from the Soviet bloc and China made up 3.9 per cent of the Western world's total in 1961. Both these figures are almost double the comparative 1962 figure.

Exports Controls

Sources close to the 15-nation Coordinating Committee for East-West trade — COCOM—

of the United States provide regarding the suspension of the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus.

Smith declined to predict how the proposal might fare in the House, but said, "I think the 30 questions are ridiculous and there should be some changes. I'm in favor of something along that line, but I wouldn't want to be stuck with those exact questions before we get a chance to look at it."

say that the controls over exports to the Communist nations are not intended to dampen international commerce.

"We are not waging economic warfare. The principal objective is to prevent the flow of strategic materials which could add to the ability of the Communist powers to wage war," one informant said.

The hitch comes in the definition of strategic materials. For some items there is immediate unanimous agreement. For others, long and heated technical arguments consume days every year before a compromise is reached.

"If you wanted to carry it to the extreme, you could say that buttons are a strategic item," explained one man who follows the work of the yearly review of the embargo lists.

"If the Russians didn't have any buttons, the soldiers might not be able to keep their pants up. But we aren't trying to prevent the export of buttons. We're aiming principally at slowing down the development of industries with a war potential."

The United States has been ranked by the sale of British buses and French locomotives to Cuba.

COCOM Lists

But Cuba is not on the list of Communist nations — Russia, China and the Eastern European satellites—covered by the COCOM export lists.

Nevertheless, the COCOM nations—all the North Atlantic Treaty Organization members except Iceland but plus Japan—have agreed not to ship arms or implements of war to Cuba.

Most of them have also taken measures to prevent transshipment of American goods to Cuba. But there has been little inclination to go any further in clamping down on Cuba trade.

Governor Blocks Favorite Son Move

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Gov. Richard J. Hughes has blocked a move to make him a favorite son candidate for the Democratic vice-presidential nomination.

Hughes said Wednesday night he had vetoed a plan to commit New Jersey's 77 votes to him at the Democratic National Convention.

"I'd rather President Johnson express his own views (on a running mate)," said Hughes.

Hughes reiterated his intention to run for re-election.

Hunting Audience

Judy Garland Stalks Off Australian Stage

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—By the time the orchestra played "Over the Rainbow," the audience was hunting and Judy Garland had stalked off stage.

The four notes didn't end with Miss Garland's concert Wednesday night.

The benefit was besieged for refunds today and the head of the Musicians' Union said the Australian orchestra that accompanied the singer had never been so humiliated.

Miss Garland herself commented, "I didn't like it, did you?"

Dear Lady

The American singer's travails began when she arrived an hour late. Her manager blamed it on a sore throat. "You're late" and "Have another brandy," hecklers shouted.

Despite some snuffed notes, most of the crowd of 7,000 was with her during the first half of the concert, her only performance in Melbourne. But some didn't appreciate her fidgeting with the microphone cable or her side banter.

"Sing, sing!" and "Get on with it!" a few shouted, and soon the auditorium resounded with slow, prodding clapping.

The audience's mood wasn't improved when Miss Garland took a half-hour intermission.

She sang three more songs on her return, but the lyrics were fragmentary and the customers began drifting to the doors.

Miss Garland curtly left without any farewell, leaving the orchestra to play "Over the Rainbow"—her theme—by itself. The musicians departed amid howls.

Miss Garland's manager, Karl Brent, said the audience should have accepted her apology for being late.

New Zealand Students Steal General's Cap

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—A group of university students stole U.S. Gen. Hamilton H. Howze's cap Wednesday night while he attended a reception with Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake at Wellington University College.

The students tore the crown and braid from the cap, dished the frame, attached an obscene note to it and threw it into the U.S. Embassy grounds.

The Student Association caught the offenders promptly. The culprits paraded sheepishly to the embassy today to apologize.

Howze, commander of U.S. forces in Korea, is representing the United States at the annual commemoration of the Battle of the Coral Sea.

Better Trash Service for Appleton Left Undecided

Council Tangles Itself in Parliamentary Red Tape; Undoes Previous Action

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Improved trash collection for Appleton residents may be long in coming.

After entangling themselves in parliamentary red tape, aldermen took action Wednesday night that left a big question mark as to whether there will be any improvement over the present once-a-month pickup.

The council consumed considerable time undoing what it had done at its previous meeting when every other week (bi-weekly) trash collections and other recommendations were adopted.

They were recommended by Public Works Director Robert W. Bues and the street-sanitation committee who had hoped to put the accelerated collection program into effect by July 1.

Developments Wednesday

Although the trash collection matter has been under study for more than a year now, and the recommendations were sent back to committee twice for review and rewording, Wednesday's meeting produced these developments:

—At the request of Ald. R. P. Groh (8th), who voted in favor of increased pickup service at the previous meeting, the council voted to reconsider its action. The motion lost 10 to 8.

—Some aldermen complained the motion should have been debated before the roll call; others said there was an error in tallying the vote.

—After conferring with the city attorney, Mayor Clarence Mitchell threw out the vote and said the question should have been debated.

Residents Split

In discussion that followed, some aldermen said Appleton residents did not want additional trash collections because it would cost more money; others claimed their constituents have insisted on bi-weekly collections and were willing to pay.

—It was cited that during the past year the council received petitions, one with more than 200 signatures, requesting more than monthly trash collection service.

—A motion to have the matter returned to committee for the third time was defeated, 14-4.

—Aldermen then decided to convene as a committee of the whole after the regular meeting and "thrash out the trash."

Never Voted

—Because the meeting lasted until after 11 p.m., aldermen voted at that time to dispense with the committee of the whole session.

—Although the motion to reconsider passed, a vote was never taken on the matter to be considered—the recommendation for accelerated trash collections.

—Later in the meeting the council voted down a recommendation that the public works director meet with representatives of City Disposal Corp., which has offered to take over garbage and trash collections on a contract basis.

Although not brought out at the meeting, it is known that some city officials have been in contact with City Disposal Corp. here in recent weeks. The firm wants a five-year contract at $250,000 a year for twice a week garbage and bi-weekly trash collections.

Will Take Time

Bues has said it will take time to revise collection routes to provide increased pickup service. Originally, when his recommendation came to the council it was estimated June 1 would be the starting date. When he went back to committee and then to the council again, the

Chicago Firm Starts Efficiency Study of Outagamie County

Survey Consultants Outline Objectives to Committees

Outagamie County's modernization and efficiency survey began today.

Representatives of the J. L. Jacobs Co., Chicago, the Chicago government consultant firm hired by the county board to make the study, met today with county board's new "coordinating committee," individual department heads, Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer and Business Administrator Alvin Woehler.

Thomas L. Jacobs and Howard Ferguson of the Chicago firm met with the coordinating committee in the morning and were to meet with the department heads in the afternoon to explain objectives of the study.

Earlier Fulcer, chairman of the new committee, explained to the members that the committee's function will be to serve as liaison between the consultants and the county board committees they represent.

Advices Caution

Fulcer advised the group "a certain amount of caution is needed in how the new committee proceeds. Remember," Fulcer said, "the county board is not the policy-making board and must remain so. But," he explained, "if we are to have county government efficiency, we at the top management level must recognize there is a need for revision.

"I don't mean this in criticism," Fulcer said, "but we must recognize county government needs revision and modernization. We can't fool the people. We must show the people that we as leaders are willing to make changes."

Acting Head Named for State Hospital

WINNEBAGO — Dr. Darold Treffert, head of children's service at Winnebago State Hospital, has been named acting superintendent effective May 23, when Dr. Charles H. Bekker, present administrator leaves for a new post in Hilo, Hawaii.

In making the announcement today Wilbur Schmidt, head of the Wisconsin Department of Public Welfare, Madison, stated that Dr. Treffert will continue in this capacity until a permanent superintendent has been appointed.

The new acting superintendent has been in charge of the children's unit at Winnebago State Hospital since July 1, 1962. A native of Fond du Lac, he received his premedical training at Bethany College and the University of Iowa. He is a graduate from the University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and previously worked at Sacred Heart Hospital, Eugene, Ore., and University Hospitals, Madison.

Appleton Charged By Teamsters Union With Unfair Practice

Employment Relations Board Schedules Hearing for June 3

The City of Appleton was tagged today with an unfair labor practice charge by Teamsters Local 563, representing more than 50 employees in the department of public works.

It was filed with the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board (WERB) at Madison by Robert Schlieve, union secretary-treasurer.

The charge against the city was triggered by action of the common council several weeks ago in discontinuing union dues checkoff.

The city and union have not been able to agree on a 1964 contract and the dispute is scheduled for fact-finding through the WERB.

In a recent letter to city officials, Schlieve said if the dues checkoff was not reinstated, the union would take legal action.

Restore Checkoff

Attorneys for the union have petitioned the WERB to order an immediate hearing to take testimony preliminary to issuing a temporary order, pending final outcome of the litigation, to restore the dues checkoff agreement.

The union also seeks an order that the city "cease and desist from interfering with, restraining and coercing its employees in the bargaining unit from engaging in legally protected rights to join a labor union and bargain collectively on the matter of wages, hours and employment conditions, and from discouraging membership in the complainant union."

The WERB has been called upon to order the city to continue the dues checkoff unless cancelled by the unionized employees, the factfinder, or mutual agreement of the parties involved.

Local 563 has been the continuous collective bargaining agent for the employees in the street sanitation department and maintenance - sewer division since July 29, 1960.

The complaint cites that since 1960 the city has been making the dues checkoff until just recently. It notes that on March 24 the WERB ordered fact-finding in the city-union labor dispute.

However, the union claims after the fact-finding was issued, the city "unilaterally cancelled the longstanding agreement and policy of checking off union dues."

"This cancellation was effectuated solely for the purpose of interfering with, restraining and coercing the employees in the exercise of their legal rights under the law," the union charged. It contended the city took its action to "punish" the union employees for not accepting the personnel committee's contract offers.

City Atty Frederick Froehlich will defend the city in the latest action and has until June 1 to answer the complaint.

A WERB hearing has been scheduled here on June 3 at 10 a.m.

Gerald Lorge Seeks Return To Senate Post

Bear Creek GOP Incumbent Running For His 3rd Term

Gerald D. Lorge, 42, Bear Creek Republican, announced today that he is a candidate for a third full four-year term as state senator in the 14th District.

Lorge will be opposed in the September Republican primary by George L. Buckley, 46, an Appleton attorney, who announced his candidacy two weeks ago.

The 14th Wisconsin Senate District includes all of Waupaca and Outagamie counties.

In 1954, Lorge, then Outagamie County's Second District assemblyman, won a special senate election to fill the unexpired term of Gordon A. Bubolz, Appleton, who resigned. Lorge was re-elected by comfortable margins in the 1956 and 1960 elections. He began serving in the assembly in 1961.

In announcing his re-election plans today, Lorge laid the blame for "Wisconsin's forthcoming financial crisis" on former Gov. Gaylord Nelson and on Gov. John Reynolds, both Democrats.

He said, "Nelson's dangerous negative veto of the tax reform plan of the majority party in the 1959 and 1961 legislative sessions and a repudiation of Nelson's own Blue Ribbon Revenue Survey Study Committee, along with Reynolds' desire of placing politics over the real needs of Wisconsin," are causes of "the forthcoming financial crisis."

Lorge said he favors "complete financial reform."

World Service, Building, Awards Highlight Y Meeting

Annual Appleton Session Gets Firsthand Look at Programs, Plans

A firsthand view of YMCA of the nominating committee. New officers will be elected at the May 23 board meeting.

Ott, whose primary responsibilities in Y work are World Service, camping and administration, told the 136 Appleton members at the banquet, "We are doing an unbelievable job in our World Service to many nations. These fellow secretaries abroad and their counterparts in native lands are, in a sense, more 'visible' Christians than we are, perhaps because they operate in non-Christian countries where they are often to declare themselves more often."

The community service award was presented to Bruce Purdy by the YMCA board by C. Andree Pertain, board president. Prudy served as general campaign chairman of the YMCA new building fund and is a past president of the YMCA and United Community Services past UCS campaign chairman and chairman of the building fund campaign of All Saints Episcopal Church.

"Youth of the Year" awards were presented by the Appleton Y's Men's Club to Craig Nissen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Nissen, 1624 N. Gillett St., and Robert Ridgely, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Ridgely, 1720 W. Packard St. The awards were presented for leadership growth during the last year. Nissen is vice president and Ridgely is chairman of the Olympian Hi-Y Club.

Mrs. T. H. Orbinson was recognized for her interest in YMCA World Service and was presented a corsage.

Robert Rae, building committee chairman, announced contracts have been let for tearing down houses on the new building site, one block east of the present YMCA on Lawrence St. Contracts for the new building will be let during August and construction will be started by Sept. 1, Rae said. Construction will take about 18 months.

New Board Members

Three new members were elected to three-year terms on the YMCA board of directors: William Cherkasky, 11111 a m Spears and Kenneth Abraham. Re-elected were Paul Tepper, William Beckman, Bart Hammond and Dr. William Chandler. Nothing board members are Mrs. Walter Brummund, Arnold Evans and Charles Becker. # Park-Recreation Merger Studied

Joint Committee Outlines Plans to Combine Appleton Departments

A committee to study a merger of the Appleton Park and Recreation departments is expected to provide efficient, uniform down initial plans Wednesday at its first meeting.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell, in his state-of-the-city address, proposed the combination of the two departments to eliminate duplication of effort and expenses.

Mrs. Harold Ornstein, representing the recreation commission on the four-member study committee, was named chairman.

Erik Madison Jr. of the park board, was chosen secretary.

Other members of the committee are Bill Wachtendonk of the park board, and John Schneider, recreation commissioner.

Two Years Required

Members of the committee agreed it would take about two years before a merger could be effected.

As a preliminary step, letters will be sent to other Wisconsin communities with 40,000 - 100,000 population.

The letters will ask about budgets, organization charts, ordinances, revenue sources, functions, harbors and marinas, and other public grounds, in connection with park and recreation departments, or in a combined department if the city has one.

Another important step, committee members said, will be an inventory of the equipment and personnel in Appleton's existing park and recreation departments.

Goals Recommended

Mitchell said the committee also should outline goals a combined department should aim for.

Officials in Neenah, where park and recreation departments are administered by one committee, and in Menasha, which has a joint park-recreation department, will be contacted for information.

Letters also will be sent to cities of similar size in surrounding states, and studies will be coordinated with Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission, and with other city departments.

Winnipeg to Be 'Bystander' At Hearings

Lawyer to Represent County at Appleton Airport Discussion

OSHKOSH — Winnipeg County will be represented at the Outagamie County airport hearing June 2 in Appleton by a representative from the district attorney's office, the aviation committee of the County Board decided Wednesday night.

That representative though will be there largely in the role of an "interested bystander" and not as a participant to give testimony, "unless something is said that may need correcting," committee members explained.

June 8 was set as the next meeting date at which prices for an overhead door, electrically operated, for North Central Airlines baggage handling will be reviewed. The price also is to include installation of a service door in place of a present window.

The airlines lease, it was discovered Wednesday night, had expired as of Dec. 31, 1963. Terms of the new lease also will be reviewed with airlines representatives that night.

Since Airport Manager Steve Wittman was absent from the city, the matter of repairing a leak in a buried hot oil line at the Kimberly - Clark Corp. hangar was postponed until a later meeting. The hot oil line is to prevent fire and snow from freezing the hangar door shut.

Committee members also discussed a possible addition to the restaurant portion of the terminal and the bill for painting of a portion of the restaurant area where the county has advertising display signs.

Officials in Neenah, where park and recreation departments are administered by one committee, and in Menasha, which has a joint park-recreation department, will be contacted for information.

Letters also will be sent to cities of similar size in surrounding states, and studies will be coordinated with Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission, and with other city departments.

Fireman Resigns From Appleton Department

Robert Theiss, 25, 1818 S. Adams St., has resigned as a fireman with the Appleton Fire Department.

Theiss told Fire Chief Roland Kuehn his resignation was for personal reasons. He has been a fireman four years.

Kuehn said the resignation makes two vacancies in the 80-man department.

427 Cases Last Week

German Measles on Rampage in Appleton

German measles, mumps and chicken pox—all falling under the heading of communicable disease—are taking a toll of Appleton's younger generation.

As a result, hundreds of children have been absent from classes in recent weeks.

The city is still in the grips of a German measles epidemic with 250 cases reported since Monday of this week.

Although health authorities predicted the epidemic would taper off the first part of May, this has not been the case in Appleton.

Health department records show 677 cases of German measles have been reported since May 1.

Last week was a pacesetter with 427 cases, mostly among elementary school children.

If continuing its present pace, May will prove to be the biggest month for the incidence of measles. In April, 1,343 cases of the German variety were reported.

In February there were 46 cases; January 10.

German measles is first seen as a rash. There may be a slight fever, inflamed eyes or a slight sore throat. It may be 10 to 21 days—usually about 18—from the time of exposure until the symptoms appear.

The disease, according to health officials, is most easily spread to others during these first days of infection, even before the child looks sick.

Isolate Patients

Those coming down with German measles must be isolated at home for three days from the date of the first sign of the disease.

Mumps and chicken pox cases are also on the upswing in Appleton.

Mumps begin with a slight fever and nausea. Later painful swelling appears about the angle of the jaw, below and in front of the ear. The patient should be isolated for at least one week or until the swelling disappears.

Chickenpox usually begins with a mild fever and a rash of small, raised pimples, which shortly become filled with clear fluid. Scabs form later. The patient should be isolated for seven days.

All cases of communicable diseases should be reported to the health department. It in turn reports weekly disease totals to the State Board of Health at Madison.

'Alice' Parade Will Include 85 Floats

KAUKAUNA — Over 85 floats, marching units, dignitary cars and other entries are scheduled to appear in the Alice in Wonderland parade Saturday, according to Miss Mary Margaret DeClerq, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and chairman of the event.

The parade starts at 1:30 p.m. and will last about two hours. Many businesses and organizations in the parade have indicated they will have more than one entry. A total of $50 in prizes will be awarded to parade entries.

A reviewing stand will be located at Second Street and Crooks Avenue, but the parade will travel the main route through the city. All city police will be on duty to direct traffic.

Announcement of prize winners will be made at a Saturday night banquet at Van Abel's, Hollandtown. Tickets for the banquet are available at the Chamber of Commerce office or at county agents' offices in Fox Valley area courthouses.

Grain Plant Employee Collapses, Dies While Working This Morning

Woodrow Diedrick, 47, 724 W. Third St., an employee of the Liethen Grain Co., 113 N. Badger Ave., collapsed and died while at work early this morning.

Attempts to revive the man with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and efforts of the fire department rescue squad failed.

Death apparently was due to natural causes, according to Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps.

Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Saturday at St. Mary Catholic Church. Burial will be in the parish cemetery. Friends may call at Bretschneider Funeral Home after 2 p.m. Friday.

Shotgun Blast Ends Backyard Reign of Vicious Blackbird

MENASHA — A belligerent blackbird that terrorized Keyes Street residents for the past several weeks was shot down this morning by Menasha police.

Residents of the 800 block of Keyes Street said the bird, which nested in a tree at 809 Keyes Street, had attacked at least three persons by flying down and pecking them on the head. The bird was reported to be attacking anyone who ventured into the yard.

Tony Ashenbrenner ended the bird's backyard reign with one shot from a shotgun.

Tickets Available

NEENAH — Tickets are still available and will be available at the door for the annual Neenah Police Ball, to be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. tonight at the Neenah Eagles Club, according to Capt. Vern Wollerman, Neenah police department.

Plan Concert In Kimberly

Gerrits School Students to Perform Thursday Night

KIMBERLY — The annual Spring Concert will be presented by the band and chorus of J. R. Gerrits Junior High School at 7:30 p.m. today in the school auditorium.

The band will open the program playing "In My Merry Oldsmobile" followed by "Two Stars." Featured in cornet duets in this selection will be Barbara Opsteen and Beckie Voights and Greg Torgeson and David Holkens. After the playing of "Fascination," Beckie Voights will play a cornet solo, "El Tornado" with Judy Van Geffen as accompanist.

The band will close with "Melody March," "Little Pedro," "Trombone Toboggan," "Bandango," "Songs of the Sea," and "Vanguard March." Directing will be Gordon Korkosky.

The chorus directed by Allan Leicht will open with "Tallis Canon" in three parts followed by "Summer Is A-Coming In" in five parts and "The Bell Deth Toll" in three parts. Judy Van Geffen will present a piano solo "Theme from Rachmaninoff's Piano Concerto."

Closing selections will be "Fireflies," "De Animals A-Comin'," "Coming Through The Rye," "Battle Hymn of the Republic," and "Hymn of Brotherhood." Accompanists will be Marianne Ruys and Judy Van Geffen.

Pipeline and Truck Competition Closes 12-Mile Railroad

OKMULGEE, Okla. (AP) — One of the nation's smallest railroads—12 miles long—is closing down because of pipeline and truck competition.

W. J. Winkle, vice president, said the Okmulgee Northern Railway received authorization from the Interstate Commerce Commission to end operations.

The line, which has two diesel engines, 10 employees and assets estimated at $237,751, connects this eastern Oklahoma town to a Kansas, Oklahoma & Gulf Railroad junction. The little line was one of the few that operated at a profit during the depression years. It was built in 1916 to serve two oil refineries.

ing to do something to improve things."

Jacobs told the committee "the county board has a wonderful opportunity to conduct a self-appraisal. The best results will be assured if county officials take a hard look at themselves."

Two-Part Study

He explained the study will be divided into two parts — a management survey and a job classification and salary survey.

Jacobs said the management survey is intended to be concerned with making studies which would determine strength and weakness in each department and service. He said the study will work "from the top down—from the county board itself down to each department employee."

"Our recommendations in the management survey can, if properly implemented, lead to a management utopia," he stated.

Salary Study

In the job classification and pay area, Jacobs said the study will deal with each employee individually. Ferguson, who will remain in Appleton for the study, will attempt to group individual jobs into a class where positions are similar, regardless of the department in which an employee works.

Jacobs explained, "We will be classifying jobs, not people, so everything we do and say won't be popular."

Questionnaires are being distributed to each county employee today going into all phases of each job. After studying the questionnaires and interviewing each employee, responsibility of each job will be evaluated. Then salary and wage rates will be set up applicable to each job class and on a comparable level to prevailing rates of pay for the same types of job in the Appleton area.

List Objectives

"Our objective," Jacobs said, "is to determine where improvements can be made and where they are required within the limits of the law."

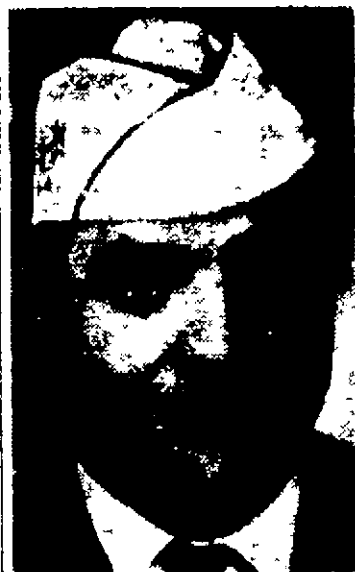

Members of the county board's new coordinating committee and the committees they represent are:

Supvs. Ervin Conradt (Bohna), highway; J. W. Weyenberg (Kaukauna 2), public welfare; John Schreiter, (Appleton 6), civil service and salary; Joseph Weyers (Freedom), executive; Russell DeLaHunt (Kaukauna 5), public property and insurance; George Greisch (Appleton 3), courts and administration of justice; Peter Farrell (Town of Kaukauna), traffic police; George Kroes (Vandenberg), agriculture and conservation; Andrew Jimos (Appleton 2), purchasing and general accounts; Eugene Kloes (Appleton 4), health, education and institutions; John Dietz (Appleton 13), airport; and Fulcer.

"Putting the YMCA World Service program in many countries into one package with a common label would be a grave mistake," Ott said. "We often say of World Service that one of its great strengths is its adaptability to the conditions of the country. This was in evidence all around the world."

Education Program

"Formal and informal education is our program abroad," he said. "One feels the gap we are filling in education is truly needed and appreciated. In the informal field, especially in camping and health education, we are very effective. With VD, TB and the traffic in narcotics, looming as great social and medical problems, our influence is necessary and positive in each of these countries."

Commenting on the Y's education program in Korea, he said, "Next to food, education seems to be a much sought after commodity — and the kids are devoted and committed in their efforts to learn."

Ott discussed his experiences in the various lands he visited and noted that in Taejon, Korea, the new dormitory at the Women's College has a cornerstone with Frank Shattuck's name on it.

Two Found Guilty Of Snagging Fish

Two Shiocton men were found guilty Tuesday by a six-man jury in Outagamie County Court Branch 3 of snagging fish. Both will be sentenced Friday.

John Samz, 30, and Russell Obermeyer, 37, had pleaded innocent of the charges when arraigned May 8. Samz also was found guilty of being a repeater under conservation laws. The men are free on bond until sentencing.

Council Orders End to Oneida Street Parking

Traffic Regulations Set; Prange Gets Ramp Entrance

Parking was eliminated from both sides of Oneida Street from Lawrence Street to College Avenue by the city council Wednesday night.

The action ended several months of controversy. Acting on the recommendation of the public safety committee, the council also directed that Oneida Street be divided into three traffic lanes.

It also approved "no parking" on the west side of N. Oneida Street between College Avenue and Washington Street.

Ald. R. P. Groh (8th) wanted a time limitation placed on the "no parking" on Oneida Street but his motion was defeated, 12-7.

No Loading Zone

A plea for a loading zone on Oneida Street in the area of the Zuelke Building by Ald. Harold Hannemann (10th) also failed.

By a 16-3 vote, the council directed that:

—There be no parking on the west side of Oneida between College Avenue and Washington Street.

—The middle traffic lane between Lawrence and Washington Streets, and right hand traffic lane between College and Washington be for straight ahead traffic only.

Grants Prange Entrance

Another controversial matter was disposed of when the council voted to grant the H. C. Prange Co. an entrance to its parking ramp on N. Oneida Street, providing it made the exit on Appleton Street.

The council also stipulated that the present Washington Street ramp exit be permanently closed.

The council also: —Requested the personnel committee to review the current hospital and surgical medical insurance program carried for city employees.

—Awarded a $32,542 storm sewer construction project to Charles A. Green and Son, Appleton.

Better Trash Pickup Again Left Undecided

estimate was revised to July 1. As the result of the council's dilemma in a Wednesday night, there is a possibility of further delay.

Buses estimates bi-weekly trash collections will cost an additional $20,000 to $25,000 a year, and possibly require some new equipment. Some aldermen want the estimates pinpointed, claiming they have no intention of "signing a blank check."

"Fight Tenaciously"

"Do the people of Appleton really want increased trash service if it will cost more money?" was the question posed by Groh, who said he would "fight tenaciously to keep collections under control of the City of Appleton — not an outside firm."

Ald. Alvin E. Tews (5th) agreed and Ald. Harold Hannemann (10th) said residents of his ward were satisfied with once a month trash pickups.

However, Ald. Orville Strutz (17th), recently elected to the council, said during the campaign about 90 per cent of the people in his ward indicated they favored twice a month trash pickup.

Concern over cost also was expressed by Ald. Al. C. Fischer (15th), who has leaned toward having a private firm take over.

Ald. Mrs. Dorothy O. Stillings

(7th) said she had yet to hear from a housewife who did not favor better trash service.

A strong advocate of stepped up collections, Ald. Clifford Radder (10th), said he visited about 600 homes in his ward last month and the most often asked question was, "When is the city going to give us better trash pickup service?"

"It may cost a little more, but it will eliminate a lot of outdoor burning, along with helping keep basements and garages clean," Radder said.

"The longer we wait to do something, the worse the situation will get," Radder cautioned.

Ald. Kenneth Loos (2nd), street sanitation committee chairman, said it would be difficult to obtain public reaction until the city tried out the accelerated program and compiled actual cost figures.

MENASHA — Menasha will stake its claim to the Mid-Eastern Conference baseball crown in back-to-back games today and Friday.

Catch Bernie LeRay's Bluejays entertain Two Rivers at 5 p.m. today at the Menasha Ball Park and go to Shawano for a 4:30 p.m. Friday makeup test.

Menasha has a 4-1 record to trail Kaukauna (5-1) by a half game. Shawano bested Two Rivers, 10-5, Tuesday to remain tied with the Jays for second.

Mike Vinhurst is expected to face the Raiders this afternoon with Stan Ostrowski the likely starter at Shawano.

Fire Run

NEENAH — The Neenah Fire department answered an alarm at 11:58 a.m. Wednesday to extinguish a blaze along the Soo Line right of way at Jackson St.

(7th) said she had yet to hear from a housewife who did not favor better trash service.

A strong advocate of stepped up collections, Ald. Clifford Radder (10th), said he visited about 600 homes in his ward last month and the most often asked question was, "When is the city going to give us better trash pickup service?"

"It may cost a little more, but it will eliminate a lot of outdoor burning, along with helping keep basements and garages clean," Radder said.

Seminar on Code Slated At UW Center

A lawyers' seminar on the Wisconsin Uniform Commercial Code will be held from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. May 23 at the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center.

The seminar is part of an introductory program on the code presented by the Institute of Continuing Legal Education for Wisconsin in cooperation with bar associations in four counties, including those of Outagamie and Winnebago counties.

The code, which becomes effective July 1, 1966, has been in preparation for several years. During the time the Wisconsin Legislative Council prepared the UCC, Winnebago, Outagamie and Waupaca counties were represented on the council by Sen. William Draheim, Neenah; Sen. Gerald Lorge, Bear Creek, and Assemblyman Richard E. Peterson, Waupaca.

Darwin E. Smith and S. Norman Moe of the Kimberly-Clark Corp. sat with the commercial code committee of the council and made important contributions, according to institute personnel at Madison.

Program speakers will be Orrin Helstad, UW associate professor of law, and Gordon Smith Jr., Milwaukee attorney. Helstad is project coordinator for the forthcoming handbook on Wisconsin's UCC.

plete elimination of the personal property tax, reduction of the real estate property tax, with a progressive tax base geared to keep in tune with each biennial budget."

Wisconsin must have a tax system based on ability to pay, Lorge stated, "which would stimulate growth, create new job opportunities for the state's youth and reduce all local property taxes."

He cited Wisconsin's growing population and shift from rural to urban as such that we must meet the new challenges affecting employment, agriculture, industry and recreation, not only from the fiscal point of view to create more job opportunities, but also by encouraging regional planning, zoning, highway construction, conservation of national resources, development of recreational facilities, and upgrading public education at all levels.

Lorge is chairman of the Senate's committee on labor, insurance, taxation and banking, is a member of the committee on legislature procedure, serves on the the Legislative Council, and is chairman of the special insurance study committee.

Lorge was born and educated in Bear Creek and received his law degree from Marquette University in 1932. He was a candidate for the vacant U.S. Senate seat caused by the death of Joseph R. McCarthy in 1957, and sought the GOP convention endorsement for lieutenant governor in 1962.

He served in the Marine Corps four years during World War II, and is a member of the Moose, Disabled American Veterans, American Legion, Knights of Columbus, and the national, state and Outagamie County bar associations.

Youth Injured in Car-Bike Accident

Victor Simon, 15, son of Mrs. M. G. Simon, 817 W. Laramie St., received a minor leg injury when he was involved in a car-bicycle collision on N. Badger Avenue at W. Spencer Street about 4:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The bicycle Simon was riding collided with a car being driven on N. Badger Avenue by Robert J. Roeder, 30, 804 S. Memorial Drive. Simon was taken to a doctor for treatment.

Police said Simon rode his bicycle in traffic and was struck as he crossed N. Badger Avenue.

On TV Today

BY TV SCOUT
6-7 (Channel 2) — Password is still in Hollywood, with Barbara Rush and Peter Lawford the celebrity contestants.

7-7:30 (Channel 11) — The Donna Reed Show repeats a faintly cloying episode in which Jacques Aubuchon plays a stubborn farmer who opposes progress in the form of a proposed freeway through his property.

7-8 (Channel 2) — Rawhide repeats a good episode from the 1962 season Mark Stevens plays a former Confederate colonel turned bounty hunter. When he shows up at the drovers' camp, each one begins to worry.

7:30-8 (Channel 11) — My Three Sons has a completely beguiling episode in which Chip and his friend Ernie (Stanley and Barry Livingston), under the influence of "Tom Sawyer," decide to run away from home.

7:30-8:30 (Channel 4-5) — Joan Blondell, who is showing up all over television, appears on Dr. Kildare as a very wealthy, rough-hewn lonely widow who decides Raymond Massey will be a good husband.

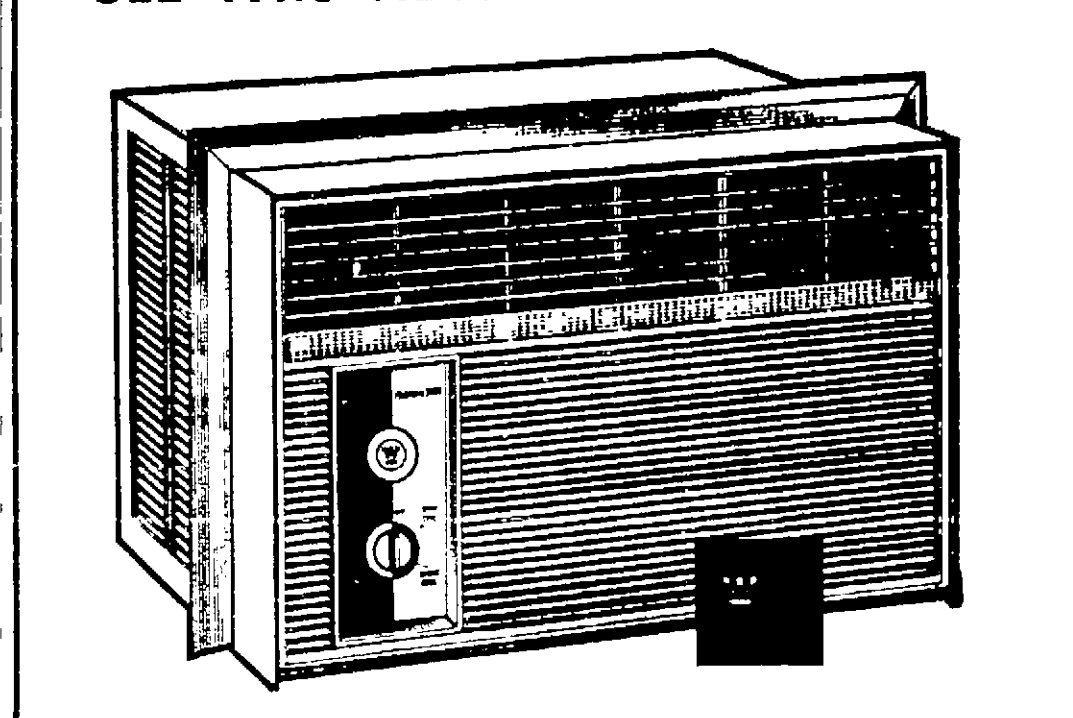

8-10 (Channel 2) — Perry Mason, which usually suffers from an over-abundance of red herrings, doesn't have enough in "The Case of the Ugly Duckling." So it shouldn't be hard to spot the killer.

9-10 (Channel 5) — The Perry Como Show comes to the end of the season's rambling, in Chicago Roberta Peters, singing Leonard Bernstein's "Glimmer and Be Gay" from "Candide"; Perry and Roberta singing a duet from "Don Giovanni"; then Jack E. Leonard joining them for a Beatles' spoof, provide some fun.

9-10 (Channel 2) — Shirl Conway, who only last week was a jolly participant in a wild spoof of The Nurses, is all starch and patience in this deadly serious episode, "A Postcard From Yucatan." John Richards, a lonely bachelor, is dying, and Shirl desperately rounds up his reluctant family and a girl from his past to his bedside.

9:30-10 (Channel 11) — Big Brother Is Listening, inspired by Vance Packard's book "The Naked Society," is not a comfortable documentary. It's a study about the invasions of privacy in the U. S. and it may cause unwary viewers to begin looking behind their shoulders to see who is watching.

Three of the Leads in the Oscar winning movie "Tom Jones" are Albert Finney in the title role, left, Hugh Griffith as the irascible and blasphemous squire, the portrayal which won him an award nomination, and Susannah York as the squire's pretty daughter. The movie currently is playing at the Viking Theater in Appleton and the Time Theater in Oshkosh.

Foxes Fans Increase At Goodland Field

Fighting Team, Plus Warm Weather Brings Rooters Out to Home Games

"Take me out to the ball game," is becoming — as it always does this time of the year — a very popular song and demand. With a fighting team in the Fox Cities and warmer weather making itself felt more often, Goodland Field is getting accustomed to fairly good crowds.
One of the things that the growing crowds at the Foxes games are noticing is the brilliant color scheme Ralph Mueller, the club's new general manager, has scattered through the uniforms of his park employees.
The most important color, as far as decorum is concerned, is orange. It is worn by the shaggers, those youngsters who retrieve balls pounded out of the playing field. The idea behind the colored shirts is to set the boys apart from the multitude of other youngsters who spend more time acting up than watching. It's working too, so they say.

Famous Poem
Since no team can win all of the time, the classic reaction to a failure to win is still the same in the days when DeWolf Hopper made his bread — and butter and jam — intoning the tearful tale of "Casey at the Bat." As long as a last minute strike out can create tears in Mudville — or any other ball town — the game is safe.
Speaking of old Casey at the Bat, brings up the latest word from the Perry Mason TV show. The connection between baseball and Perry Mason is William Hopper, the son of De Wolf Hopper and Perry's detective Paul Drake.

CBS, the residence from which Perry makes his weekly electronic excursion into your homes, wanted Perry to flit about the country trying cases in many jurisdictions and pointing up oddities in the law. Another agrees, Erle Stanley Gardner, the tireless creator of the bookstand attorney in his own right, aided with producer Gail Patrick Jackson (she's the former movie siren) in objecting to such traveling.

Gardner said Perry as a California attorney couldn't practice outside of the state without a lot of red tape. That ended the pressure on Perry, but CBS still had a lot of stock locale shots they wanted to use on the favorite TV show.

So the compromise was struck. Paul Drake — remember he was, our connection between baseball and TV — is going to so a lot of traveling next season digging up dirt and information for Perry.

Local Shots
With CBS interested in using locale shots it has in the library isn't likely Bill Hopper's California friends will be without him. Locale clips are used in what is known as process shots

Young Hobby Club Rainbow Printing Fun to Do With Paper and Crayons

BY CAPPY BACK
With rainbow printing you can print signs in many different colors. All you need are wax crayons and some paper. You must make a piece of special "carbon paper" with crayons of different colors rubbed entirely over one side of it. You place the crayon side on a sheet and do your printing (Figure 2) press hard with your pencil. You may make the letters as thick and fat or as thin as you wish. The larger the letters (Figure 3) the more colors will appear.

Lessons for Older Group Scheduled To Begin June 8

Make a rainbow color sign. piece of cardboard or paper and print on the back of the home-made carbon paper. The lines you make will be transferred to the plain paper or cardboard in all the different color of crayon you have used.

Figure 1 shows the equipment. Use as many different colors of crayon as you can find and rub thick, heavy lines of alternating colors across the back of one sheet of paper. For example, rub on a red line about half an inch wide. Next to it make a green line half an inch wide. Next to the green line make an orange line, and so on until the entire back of the paper has been covered. When you place this paper

Appleton C of C Hits Parking Hood 'Abuse'

Businessmen's Bulletin Says Group Made Survey of Stalls on Oneida, Appleton

The city's policy of permitting part the hoods, which can be rented from the city for $8 a month, are being used by employees and professional men in the immediate area surveyed. "Parking hoods were supposed to be used in those cases where commercial repairs or services were being performed for downtown businessmen," the chamber said. Mayor Clarence Mitchell said he believes motorists should use hoods in parking lots and ramps, not on city streets. Ald Robert Stumpf (9th) the common council's public safety committee chairman, was not impressed by the Chamber's report.

"It looks like the Chamber of Commerce is back to making surveys again," Stumpf said Wednesday night. "And they are telling us things we already know."

Stumpf said if members of the Chamber attended public safety committee meetings they would be informed.

"We are waiting for the introduction of an ordinance which will create a parking utility and intend to crack down on some of these things," Stumpf commented.

Stumpf claimed people who were abusing parking in the area where the survey was conducted are those working or have offices downtown.

Need Utility
Stumpf has felt the City of Appleton is now in need of a parking utility to run lots, ramps and parking projects.

During its survey, the Chamber checked 405 parking stalls. "Present practice permits any one to purchase a meter hood," the chamber said. "These abuses suggest a need for a change in current hood policies."

It contended parkers using hoods are consistently parked day after day in the same areas and deprive shoppers of parking spaces.

All-Day Parking
The chamber report also said there are numerous incidents of cars (without hoods) being parked all day by motorists "feeding" the meters.

"The survey indicated that in most cases legitimate parkers using spaces in the survey area were apparently non-residents, either salesmen or short-term parkers," the chamber said. "This is substantiated by the large number of out-of-state cars and licenses were traced to numerous other Wisconsin cities, in many cases far beyond our normal trade area."

The chamber's parking and traffic committee will study the survey data.

Some survey data: 16.3 per cent of the available spaces were vacant.

Today in History

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, May 21, the 142nd day of 1964. There are 224 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1861, Clara Barton founded the American Association of the Red Cross, the forerunner of the organization we have today.

In 1854, Lawrence, Kan., was raided by a pro-slavery force of armed men, leading to a retaliatory raid by John Brown at Dutch Henry's Crossing.

In 1927, Charles A. Lindbergh reached Paris after the first solo flight across the Atlantic.

In 1937, a Soviet plane landed at the North Pole, the first step for regular air communication between Russia and America over the polar region.

In 1943, the Tokyo radio admitted that Japanese Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto, who directed the Pearl Harbor attack, had been lost on a plane shot down by an Army Air Force pilot, Lt. Col. Thomas Lanphier, over the Pacific.

Ten years ago — The Senate rejected a proposal by President Dwight D. Eisenhower to lower the voting age from 21 to 18 years.

Five years ago — The United Arab Republic seized a Danish freighter as it started to enter the Suez Canal with an Israeli cargo.

One year ago — American wheat farmers dealt the Kennedy administration a severe blow by overwhelmingly rejecting its wheat control program.

52 per cent were used by legitimate parkers or shoppers.

6 per cent of the space was occupied by either trucks, officially hooded, or used by out-of-state vehicles.

VACATION PAK!

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE

YOUR NEWSCARRIER

Deserves a medal for the responsibility he assumes as a young businessman to deliver your Post-Crescent to you — day in and day out — come rain, sleet, wind, snow or sunshine!

And now, again, your newscarrier wants to cooperate in providing you with a most convenient and helpful service to you in connection with your vacation.

Vacation Pak is another service whereby you may enjoy a vacation away from your hometown and yet keep abreast of everything that goes on . . . who did and said what to whom . . . and why. You can catch up on the storylines of your favorite comics, review the comments on world affairs by your favorite local, state and national columnists.

All you need do is let your newscarrier—or the Post-Crescent—know when you are going on a vacation and for how long. Your newscarrier will then save all copies of your Post-Crescent and deliver them all to you in a neat, attractive Vacation Pak bag when you return.

There's no fuss, no need to call and "stop"—then "start" your paper again . . . no risk of tell-tale papers lying on the porch. There's nothing more to it than to tell us—or your newscarrier . . . "I want Vacation Pak!"

If you prefer to have your Post-Crescent go where you go — as many subscribers do — we can arrange that, too. Just call — 3-4411 or 2-4243

Alcohol Cited as a Factor In Major Battles of Wars

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Battles between soldiers and bottles have changed history as much as battles between armies.

So says an Indian government commission in a newly released report on the evils of drink. Alcohol, says the commission, has been an important factor in many wars.

The commission blames several major defeats wholly or in part on liquor: Pearl Harbor, the battles of France in both world wars, Waterloo in 1815.

While acknowledging "there were several causes for Pearl Harbor's debacle" the 548-page report says much of Japan's success in that first battle of the Pacific war was due to a bottle of the bottle that American sailors lost the night before.

A Japanese former officer, Cmdr. Mitsuo Fuchida, is quoted as saying the Imperial Navy thought American sailors had the habit of getting drunk Saturday night.

The attack Sunday morning, Dec. 7, 1941, was "planned to take advantage of that," Fuchida was quoted as saying.

The report, which will guide the government's campaign for total prohibition in India, pictures World War I as practically turning on the spine of a bottle.

German troops would have captured Paris and won the war, the report says.

However the wily French left their cellars filled with potent liquors. Germans went down and came up in such an intoxicated condition they were unable to fight.

Battle of France

The report says bottles were reversed in the 1940 Battle of France.

"The French Army, believing in the impregnability of the Maginot Line, lay behind it drinking their favorite red and white wine."

Germany's troops, supposedly cold sober and staying out of the cellars thus time, flanked the heavily fortified line, went into France and won the campaign, the report says.

Four Teachers Plan to Leave Hilbert Schools

HILBERT—Four of 16 teachers will not return to teach here for the 1964-65 term.

Not returning are Ted Burns, biology and agriculture; Paul Amberson, general science, physics and chemistry; John Komoroski, instrumental band, and Mrs. Doris Krueger, first grade.

The school board learned Monday night at its monthly meeting that this is the smallest turnover in teachers in 10 years at the school.

In other action the board approved the purchase of five typewriters for the business education department.

SCHOOLVILLE — Bethlehem Lutheran School will have its annual school picnic Monday at Commercial Club Park with a potluck dinner.

Mustang leads the stampede the big Ford started. This has been the hottest sales year in Ford Division history. We have a winner in the Super Torque Ford, a car so well built, so predictably tough, that competition-modified Fords took eleven of the last twelve NASCAR 500-mile races. Ford sales are up 17% this year. We have a luxury car that's taken off like a skyrocket: Thunderbird, with sales up 60%. Falcon is selling almost as many cars as Valiant and Chevy II combined. Fairlane continues to be a favorite in its own field. Now comes Mustang... turning the trend to Ford into a downright stampede. Mustang, by any measure of sales or excitement, is the most successful new car ever introduced in America—ever. When you see a stampede, it makes sense to find out what started it. That's something only your Ford Dealer can tell you about.

Business Association Formed at Sherwood

SHERWOOD—Sherwood Businessmen's Association, using as its slogan, "Gateway to High Cliff State Park", were the names chosen for the recently organized group, promoting the Hiawatha Pioneer Trail along the east shore of Lake Winnebago.

Businessmen from the surrounding area as well as Sherwood proper, taking in Harrison and Faro Springs to the south, Lower Sherwood businesses to the north and the High Cliff area are charter members.

Aims of the group were discussed, and the group agreed community benefits would be promoted.

A membership drive is underway and the 35 businessmen in the locality were contacted to join. Committees will be formed to act with an executive board. Four meetings a year are planned.

A meeting at 8:30 p.m. June 8 at the Legion Clubhouse will be held to discuss projects and promotions the group will undertake during the summer tourist season.

Governor Signs Bill Increasing Sales Tax Costs

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON—Starting at the end of next month, merchants and others retailing goods and services taxed by the state will be paid at a more generous rate for their work as involuntary revenue collectors for the state treasury.

Gov. John W. Reynolds has signed into law a legislative bill raising the amount of sales tax receipts that can be retained by vendors from one cent on the dollar to two cents, which will represent an increase in the receipts of the merchants and others of nearly $1,000,000 a year.

The governor made no comment on the measure, although there were some indications earlier in the year that the state administration was cool toward the idea of raising the rebate to vendors to a level higher than that which prevailed in some other sales tax states.

The principal argument of the merchandising lobbies before the legislature on behalf of the increase was the fact that the selectivity of the Wisconsin sales tax law has compounded their accounting problems.

Merchants worked together through their various trade associations on the bill and on another which will ease their tax reporting problems.

They had been required to remit their sales tax receipts, with supporting reports, at monthly intervals.

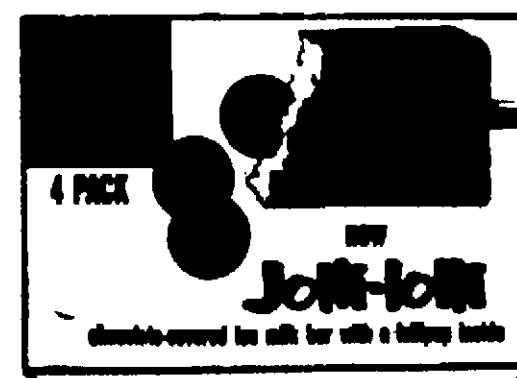

Another new law provides for quarterly remittances, which has the result of reducing their accounting problems considerably.

Here, Busy Day Soup takes advantage of canned and pre-prepared foods to eliminate extra work on housecleaning days. Note that dishwashing also is kept to a minimum with paper table service. Served cafeteria style on trays, the soup, sandwich, milk and fruit meal allows members of the family to pick their own favorite spots for eating.

Wieners come to the table in a new way in this Skillet Supper, ideally suited for a hurry-up, fill-'em-up meal. Easily prepared in a matter of minutes, the dish is almost a meal in itself with the addition of cut green beans, diced potatoes and shredded cheese held together in a smooth white sauce.

Italian Baked Beans is a do-it-yesterday, bake-today casserole that's even better eaten tomorrow. Perfect for busy days, it's a combination of those big white Idaho beans called Great Northerns, tomatoes fresh or canned, a magic blending of herbs and oil and a liberal touch of cheese just before serving time.

Delicious Make-Ahead Meals For Those Housecleaning Days...

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

Spring cleaning is like the measles... unpleasant yet often unavoidable. And once started, those "little" jobs seem to multiply or turn into one whale of a task that involves more clutter, sorting and storing than bargained for. It's certainly no time to face cooking chores three times a day.

But there's a way out if make-ahead meals are part of the overall planning for the big C-Day (Cleaning Day)... and planning is the answer to promote even-tempered homemakers and avoid those housecleaning blues. For instance, cooking chores can be eliminated... or practically so... on spring cleaning days by planning foods such as soups or stews both noted for improving in flavor when prepared the day before they are eaten.

Then don't forget the picnic idea... it's a dandy for making a fun-day out of an otherwise chaotic one. Sandwiches can be made way ahead and stored in the freezer... salads can be made a day ahead and actually be packed in individual containers such as cottage cheese cartons saved for the occasion. The picnic may be eaten outdoors if it's warm or served cafeteria style.

Skillet dishes are in order for a simmer meal that cooks away while the scrubbing, painting or rug beatings are in session. Oven dishes or casseroles make for superlative eating and little fuss... the recipe for Italian Baked Beans today is an all-occasion one that will enhance any file.

Another excellent idea for housecleaning strategy is to serve those meals in paper dishes... there are plastic coated plates for hot food service and less costly ones for sandwich and other cold food meals. There are bowls for cereals and soup... paper cups of all types, waxed or plastic coated... there are paper cloths and napkins in pretty designs. The big thing is that they're all disposable in one swoop with no dishwashing to face on a busy day.

So, in the interests of happy homemakers... shining homes... and excellent meals in spite of housecleaning duties, we suggest the following recipes. They are good for any busy day.

BUSY DAY SOUP
1 pound ground beef chuck
5 cups boiling water
2 pkg. onion soup mix
1 can tomatoes (1-pound can)
1 can mixed garden vegetables (1-pound can)
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 tablespoon parsley flakes
1 cup uncooked shell macaroni
Crumble beef into small pieces; add to boiling water. As mixture boils, skim off foam which forms. Cook and skim for about five minutes. Add remaining ingredients, all except macaroni. Simmer covered for one hour. Cool and refrigerate overnight. When ready to serve, bring to a boil, add macaroni and cook 15 minutes, or until macaroni is tender. Recipe makes six servings.

SKILLET SUPPER
1 wiener
1/2 cup butter, melted
1/4 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
1/2 cup shredded American cheese
1 can (16-oz.) green beans, drained (diagonally-cut)
2 cups diced cook potatoes
Cut franks in short, thin strips. Sauté in melted butter in large frying pan. Remove wieners from pan, then stir flour and salt into remaining butter in frypan; gradually blend in milk. Cook over low heat, stirring frequently, until thickened and smooth. Add meat, cheese, green beans and diced potatoes. Cover and cook over low heat for about 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve hot. Recipe makes six servings.

For a glamor touch, serve this easy Jubilee Salad on busy days and impress the family. It's a make-ahead that chills to perfection overnight and is ready for the table except for a last minute garnish. The salad is a combination of orange sections, tiny marshmallows and canned fruit pie filling that's blended with whipped cream folded into mayonnaise or salad dressing.

ITALIAN BAKED BEANS
2 cups large white beans, uncooked
6 cups water for soaking and cooking
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 cup olive or salad oil
1 cup chopped onion
2 cloves garlic, minced
1 1/2 cups coarsely cut celery
2 tablespoons snipped parsley
1/2 teaspoon dried thyme, crushed
1/4 teaspoon dried sweet basil, crushed
1/4 teaspoon coarse-grind black pepper
1 cup fresh skinned or canned tomatoes
2/3 cup bean liquid and tomato juice combined
Grated Parmesan or Romano cheese
The beans may be prepared by either the overnight method or one of two boiling water methods.

Travel Manners

A traveler could lose her luggage and survive. But if she mislays her manners, she's in trouble. Follow travelers avoid her. Wiling service and helping hands pass her by.

If you travel with her, you wish her back home and can picture her there — untidily dressed, littering the floor with candy wrappers and loudly criticizing everything and every body.

In these days when we all have the travel urge, we must remember that we are representatives of our world — back home to those we encounter en route. And the worth of it is told by our actions.

Ideal behavior demands a courteous approach to fellow travelers, those who serve you and the citizenry of places visited. This does not mean that distasteful company or bad service must be endured. One simply excuses the first and quietly rectifies the second. One's manner is neither intrusive nor withdrawn, but rather it expresses good humor and good will.

Aside from courtesy, all the best a journey has to offer comes from a receptive attitude toward the unfamiliar — from food to folk, from lore to landmarks. Travel is pointless unless it broadens your horizons.

Gracious and receptive, a traveler gains the most from travel. For she wins entrée to people and privileges denied to the gauche.

"There's something very suspicious about one of our bridge players," writes a Louisville fan. "I'm inclined to think he sees more than he ought to."

"He ruled the second heart in the enclosed hand, drew trumps with the king and ace, and ruled dummy's last heart."

"Then he took the ace and queen of clubs. When he led dummy's last club my partner played the nine with never a trace of hesitation. Still, declarer finished with the ten of clubs without any problems—just as though he had seen the jack in my partner's hand.

hearts. Either way, South would lose only one diamond trick.

If South played the three top clubs he would lose the contract since he would eventually lose three diamond tricks.

The tip-off is South's care in ruffing dummy's last heart. This set the stage for the eventual club finesse to guarantee the contract.

Your Problems

Mother-in-Law's 'Adoption' of Child Finally Causes Concern

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: When my husband and I married in 1961 he was in the army. I had a baby boy the first year and it was very rough on me physically. The doctor said I needed complete rest so my mother-in-law took the baby and I stayed with my folks for three months.

After that my mother-in-law encouraged me to go to Arkansas and be with my husband. She said she'd be keeping the baby and that I shouldn't worry.

My husband got out of the army six months ago and now we have a nice little house. I am expecting again and everything is fine—except we can't get our boy back from my mother-in-law.

She says the child is the most important thing in her life and if we take him she will die of a broken heart. Last night we had a big row. She called me selfish and cruel, said I'd have many more children and would not miss this one.

Our son calls me "Auntie Lou" and my husband "Uncle Jim." He thinks my mother-in-law is his mommy. Please tell me what to do before I lose my mind. — Big Mistake

Dear Mistake: Does your mother-in-law think that children are like waffles—the first one doesn't count? Quit horsing around and get your son back with you, where he belongs.

Your mother-in-law should take a foster child into her home since she seems to need to lavish love on a youngster. The local Family Service Association can direct her.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 24 years of age, but you'd never know it. I'm a size 7, with coal black hair and a pixie face. I could pass for 18 with no trouble, although I have two little girls.

The problem is that whenever my husband and I go out someone mistakes him for my father.

Rudy is only 20 but his post-hair and bald head make him look about 40.

I've tried high-styled clothes and severe hair-dos to make myself look older but they don't because me. I look as if I am playing house. Rudy didn't say anything but I know he felt terrible when the waiter who took our order last night asked,
"And now what would your beautiful daughter like for dessert?"

Do you have any suggestions or advice? — Patty

Dear Patty: This situation is going to get worse before it gets better. Wait till people begin to mistake his children for his grandchildren.

Rudy should keep his weight down, his spirits up, and his hat on — whenever possible.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My mother works part-time in a bakery to buy extra things for the house. She keeps the money in a pickle jar behind the canned goods.

My 15-year-old sister helped herself to $11.00 and bought a lace blouse to wear with her

Today's

CRADLE FOR BABY SHOWER

Dear Louise: My niece and I are planning to give a baby shower for another niece of

mother-to-be would very much like to have a cradle.

Would it be proper for us to ask the guests to bring a dollar instead of a gift? We would then give the niece the money so that she could pick out the cradle of her choice.

Louise Davis Answers:

When entertaining at a shower for a niece or any relative, hostesses should lean over backward to avoid asking friends to contribute money for a cradle or for anything unless the guests happen to be relatives only. If you are anxious to get a cradle, perhaps you can get around it by asking a friend to get in touch with those on the guest list and state the case without quoting you. In other words, let it be her idea.

CHINESE FOOD

Dear Louise: Is it proper and in good taste to serve Chinese food at a wedding reception? It would be served to 200 or more guests at the evening meal time.

We are fond of this food and know that many of our friends are too, but have never heard of it being served at a wedding reception.

Louise Davis Answers:
I advise that you confine your menu to something more traditional. I fear you would be rum-pling too great a risk with Chinese dishes unless you are certain that all of your guests like them.

keep foaming to minimum. Bring to boiling point; cover and reduce heat to simmering point. Stir carefully once or twice during first hour of cooking. Always add salt after one hour of cooking.

The salt amount depends upon the amount of beans used in the recipe. The rule of thumb is to allow 1 1/2 to 2 teaspoons of salt to every pound of dried beans unless salt pork or smoked meats are in the recipe. Then, the salt is omitted until all ingredients are added. The taste test is the best for how much salt to use, depending on family preference.

For the Italian Baked Beans, simmer beans between 1 1/2 to 2 hours, until beans are tender but not mushy. Drain the cooked beans, saving the liquid. There should be about 5 cups cooked beans.

Cook onion, garlic, celery in olive oil until tender but not browned. Add parsley, thyme, basil, pepper and tomatoes coarsely cut; also add reserved bean liquid combined with tomato juice to make two-thirds cup. Heat all this mixture to boiling point.

Add Meat Here

Lightly mix into drained beans and add any meat such as cooked ham, Italian sausage or salami at this point, if desired. Turn into casserole. Bake covered with lid or foil for about 50 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Remove from oven; top generously with grated cheese, then return to bake for 10 minutes more, uncovered, so cheese will brown a bit.

This dish may be made all in the same day, a day ahead or over a three-day period with the soaking one day, baking the second and reheating and serving the third. Refrigerate if not used immediately.

JUBILEE SALAD

2 oranges, peeled and sectioned
1 can pitted white cherries, drained (No. 203 can)
1 can (2 1/2 cups) peach or apricot pie filling
2 cups miniature marshmallows
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
1/4 cup salad dressing or mayonnaise

Combine fruits and pie filling. Add marshmallows, tossing together well. Fold whipped cream into salad dressing, then blend with the fruits. Chill overnight. Recipe makes six to eight servings.

ZIPPY POTATO SALAD

4 cups diced cooked potatoes
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup sliced olives
2 hard-boiled eggs, chopped
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1/2 cup Italian-style dressing
2 tablespoons prepared horseradish
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 can small early peas, drained (17-oz. can)

Combine potatoes with celery, olives, eggs and onion. Toss lightly. Blend two dressings, then mix with mustard, horseradish and salt. Pour mixed dressing over potato mixture along with drained canned peas. Toss lightly. Chill thoroughly before serving. Recipe makes six servings.

TAFY'S TIPS

By Dolly Martin

SLUMBER PARTY

For a slumber party, remember that sleep is the last thing your guests really want. So be sure your mother doesn't take the word "slumber" literally. Check with her to be sure your guests can stay up hours after the rest of the family have retired. Liberty is the secret ingredient that makes a slumber party fun. Curb those giggles and whispers down a bit though, after mother puts out her light. Ask your guests to bring pajamas, robe and slippers. If you are having a large group you may suggest that each girl bring her own pillow. The nibbling in the night is also exciting, but raid the refrigerator before the other members of the household begin to slumber. Load up on only the goodies that are prepared for the party. Mother will probably also understand that everyone sleeps until they wake up the next day. Just be sure little sister or brother understands this too, and keeps ever so quiet early in the morning. # Think Before Chasing Myth of 'Fortune-by-Mail' Business

BY MARY FEENEY
Appleton to Many Thousands
The age-old myth that anybody can make a fortune by mail continues to rage in the country. "Opportunity" for investing a little money and making a gigantic profit look so tempting in print. But read and heed:

Dear Miss Feeney: I invested $120 in the mail order business last year, for a franchise and mailing list plus catalogues. I had checked out the company through the Better Business Bureau and got a vague answer that they were an old concern, as if that automatically made it okay. I got one order back out of 500 catalogues and my net profit was $1.65 on the sale! So you see that the concern that sold me the catalogues made all the money.

If I had stopped to think I would have seen that if there was any money to be made by mailing out these catalogues, the mail order company would do it themselves. I think these outfits are downright frauds.

H. L. Z., Pueblo, Colo.

Dear H. L. Z.:
You nailed down the real trouble when you said "If I had stopped to think." Thinking is a mighty good habit — especially if you do it before you let go of your money.

The National Better Business Bureau gets inquiries daily about firms who set people up in the mail order business. But unless they get actual complaints, too, what can they do about it? Since you are given what the advertiser offered, what can you rightfully complain of anyway?

The BBB makes an open statement on the mail order business in general, and I think it's worth passing along:

"The mail order business, like other new business ventures, is fraught with possibilities of failure. No one can assure even an experienced business man a return of his investment, let alone exceptional profits. Professional mail order men are constantly in search of new and interesting products which are not ordinarily available through regular retail or mail order channels. They depend upon list brokers who are specialists in providing them lists of customers most likely to purchase products, and are expert in mailing material which will sell these items to the carefully selected prospects. Even so, professional mail order men know that despite their best efforts, they may lose on their investment; that for every successful sales campaign they may sustain one or more losses.

Now, $120 is a high price to pay for experience, H.L.Z. But even at that, maybe you got out under this time than you might have. Just think how much smarter you are now.

While we're on this subject of thinking before you act, here's another hazard some of you readers may encounter. The attorney general's office in New York City issues this springtime bulletin:

"Don't let spring fever make you oblivious to the fast-talking door-to-door salesmen and their shady sales practices."

Let's make it clear right here that there are many reliable door-to-door salesmen who are, and should be, welcome. It's the other kind the attorney general warns you of. He points out that some "hard sell" salesmen get a foot in the door by presenting themselves as television rating checkers, plumbers and electrical inspectors, firemen and representatives of reputable companies.

One vicious fraud perpetrated by some operators, he cautions, is the "referral sales" racket.

"In this scheme," the bulletin says, "low income families and those with language difficulties are hit the hardest. The housewife is told that she will receive a vacuum cleaner or other appliance much below cost if she 'refers' the salesman to a number of new customers who purchase the merchandise. The housewife who makes the 'referrals' then signs a 'friendship agreement' which, in fact, is an installment plan contract for the full price of the appliance, sometimes hundreds of dollars.

"The victim is then dunned by a collection agency for the full amount of the contract." Be sure you're not that victim.

You can write to Mary Feeney in care of Appleton Post-Crescent. She will answer questions of widest interest in her column.

Shower Stimulates Body Sluggishness

If you "get up on the wrong side of bed," try taking a warm sudsy bath. Since early morning grumpiness is often caused by body sluggishness, one of the best remedies is a five-minute soaping in a warm tub or shower. Besides cleansing, this daily bath helps to untwist tangled nerves and to stimulate circulation.

Little Girl's Nervous Behavior Likely From Parents Treatment

BY DR. EVE JONES

Dear Dr. Jones: My two-year-old grandchild visited me yesterday, and during the day, on two different occasions, I noticed that she straightened out her little arms rather stiffly, clenched her fists and her teeth, too, and held that position for a few moments. I mentioned it to her mother, and she said the child had been doing that just lately.

Her parents quarrel a lot; could that have something to do with this? The mother loses her temper for no reason at all. The father thinks the baby is spoiled and on occasion will whip her severely.

I will try to convince them to eliminate these arguments if these scenes are causing the baby to have a nervous reaction.

MRS. P.N.

Sounds as if the girl is bracing herself either for a blow or for an inspection.

Certainly arguments between parents are seldom beneficial to a child. But they also seldom cause a child to develop nervous mannerisms. It's much more likely that the girl's behavior results from the whippings or other treatment she receives from these two unhappy parents. Ask them to read my pamphlet, "To Spank Or Not To Spank;" it should help them develop more constructive ways of disciplining their child.

Dear Dr. Jones: My problem is with my eight-year-old son. He doesn't listen. It isn't that his hearing is impaired. I think he's just plain hostile at times. For instance, if I tell him to get something or to move something, he'll pretend he doesn't hear or he'll say, "What did you say?"

I know I speak loud enough. At times, I'll say nothing, and later he'll repeat what I said hours before. It makes me so upset that somehow I can't even say anything. I feel he's playing with me. And I can't punish him unless I'm sure of what he's doing.

MRS. W. V.

You can't decide his hearing is okay without proof, either. A surprisingly large number of "naughty" children are found to be half-deaf or half-blind. So ask your physician to test your child's vision and hearing.

For the time being, make sure your only requests or commands to him are ones that remind your child to take care of himself. Don't ask him to help with household chores or to do you favors.

When you ask him to do something like pick up his toys or wash his face, make certain he does it. Take him by the hand if necessary. But also trying to pretend you didn't tell him anything. And forget all about punishing him, that won't help and it may easily make matters worse.

Miss Mary Hamlin Elected to Head Legion Auxiliary

Miss Mary Hamlin was elected president of the American Legion Auxiliary Monday evening. Assisting Miss Hamlin in directing the Auxiliary affairs will be Mrs. Gordon Simon, first vice president; Mrs. Sylvester Lynch, second vice president; Mrs. Harry Cunningham, treasurer; Mrs. Elmer Spangler, poppy treasurer; Mrs. Albert De Bruin, chaplain, and Mrs. Thomas Brooks, sergeant-at-arms. Mrs. Lena Luniak, nominating chairman, presented the state of officers.

In charge of the program was Mrs. Glen Bowers, unit poppy chairman. Mrs. Stanley Staidl, national poppy chairman, reviewed work accomplished with veteran rehabilitation and child welfare with funds from the poppy sales.

Poppy Princesses Spoke

Miss Barbara Behl, unit poppy princess, spoke on "Our Memorial Flower". Miss Behl told of her visit to the Poppy Shop at Wood Hospital, Milwaukee.

Veterans groups will have a joint Memorial Day Service at 11 a.m. Sunday at the Congregational Church.

Mrs. Harvey Ganzer will serve as the new chairman of the Past Presidents Parley. The group voted a donation to the Past President's Nursing scholarship fund. The Past Presidents Parley at the State Convention in Wausau will honor Mrs. Harold Mueller for her 25 years of service to the department.

Serving as delegates to the State Convention in Wausau July will be Miss Hamlin, Mrs. Milton Tucke, Mrs. Sherman Kapp, Mrs. Gordon Simon, Mrs. Fred Gehris, Mrs. Roger Ruch, Mrs. Oscar Kuhn and Mrs. Elmer Spangler.

Mrs. Ruch, unit chaplain, conducted memorial services. The Junior Auxiliary picnic is scheduled for June 13 at Erb Park. The unit voted to purchase favors to be used at the reception at the National Convention in Dallas, Tex. These will be given in honor of Mrs. Staidl, a candidate for the Central Division National Vice President.

Serving as the activities committee for the meeting were Mrs. Kuhn, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Lynch, Mrs. Eugene Hoffman, Mrs. Harold Springstroh and Mrs. Cunningham.

The Ailing House Avoid Using Abrasives On Monel

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: I have monel counter tops in my remodeled kitchen. Is there any way I can treat the metal surface to prevent its getting fingerprints and other marks so easily? Can't seem to keep it shewn for any length of time.

A: When new, monel surfaces are easily marred by fingerprints, etc. After continued use, the surface becomes more resistant. Clean the metal only with hot water, with mild soap or detergent. Follow by thorough rinsing and rub with a clean, soft cloth. Scour monel only with a non - abrasive powder such as whiting.

PAINT SCALED OFF PICKET FENCE

Q: I have a picket fence that I painted with a cheap white paint. Now it is scaly, as the paint didn't stay on. I have some good white paint. If I scraped off the scaling paint, could I use linseed oil or the pickets before painting again? Will this help to keep the good paint on, or what would you suggest?

A: Scrape off all loose and flaking paint. Then wipe all surfaces with steel wool and turpentine to remove all trace of soot and grime. Then read the label on the container of paint you plan to use, and follow manufacturer's instructions carefully as to primer to be used with his specific product. If this is a linseed oil exterior paint, frequently an exterior grade linseed oil primer is recommended first. Putting on an undercoat of linseed oil won't make enough difference to be worth the effort.

Q: I have an automatic, top loading washing machine. It leaves large yellow stains on white clothes and I can't get 'hem out. Why is this? How can I remove the stains?

A: The stains may be due to iron in the water, or hard water. For either of these, installing a water conditioner, and iron filter, will eliminate the problem. Or add a water-conditioner, in powder form, to the laundry water, available at most supermarkets, following label instructions.

If these are white clothes with the new resin finishes (for wrinkle resistance, crispness, etc.), it may be due to using a chlorine bleach in the laundering. To remove these stains, use a fabric color remover, available at variety and notions store, following label instructions carefully. Or rinse garment thoroughly, then soak 30 minutes in a solution of one teaspoon sodium thiosulfate to one quart of water as warm as is safe for this particular fabric.

Mills, Mrs. Charles Octan, Mrs. Evan Handy, Mrs. Robert Downey and Mrs. Leon Tolverson.

Chairman for the morning session was Mrs. Ray Moses, assisted by Mrs. Robert Ogg, Mrs. Lester Regel and Mrs. Martin Tyssen.

Hospital Official Hits 'Government Controls'

Minnesota Consultant Calls Financial Aid, Planning for Construction the 'First Step'

CLINTONVILLE — A hospital consultant has labeled government services. mental planning and financial assistance to hospital construction as a step toward government control over hospitals.

Myron S. Burton, an official membership to hospitals built or of Northfield, Minn., told members of the North Central Area Hospital Council at a meeting here that there is "a united area planning nature are effort afoot to obtain legislative control over the construction of said health facilities."

This presumably includes nursing homes and clinics as well as hospitals, Burton said.

Ultimate Goal

He said that while the efforts now are directed primarily at the control of hospital construction, "They are quite obviously working toward control of hospital operation as well," and cited for this as a means to the ultimate goal of gaining control of physical

Follow Party Line

Area-wide planning is a promotional push guided by men in government with government grants, Burton said, and he claimed the men who write the survey reports must follow the party line.

"Through area-wide planning we are going to create a demand for controls over hospitals," this as a means to the ultimate goal of gaining control of physical hospitals is a move toward a system of socialized medicine and toward large hospitals. Under this system, doctors would have offices in the hospitals and the hospitals would, in effect, be practicing medicine, the speaker charged.

This would force many patients to travel considerable distances for routine medical care, he said.

AMA "Outflanked"

He feared that the American Medical Association may be outflanked. While it is directing its attention to Medicare bills in Congress, laws have been introduced into state legislatures to franchise the construction of hospitals, he said.

Burton has been project director for more than 40 hospitals in 10 states. He directed both the Waupaca and Wautoma hospitals on a consulting and financial basis.

Hospitals represented at the meeting were New London, Waujits attention to Medicare bills in Congress, laws have been introduced into state legislatures to franchise the construction of hospitals, he said.

Hot Lunch Volunteers Honored

The mother volunteers helpers of the St. Joseph Catholic School hot lunch program were honored guests at a smorgasbord Tuesday in the school cafeteria.

About 125 mothers help with the program throughout the year. Seven hundred children are fed each day through the program.

Other special guests at the smorgasbord were the parish priests, brothers, lay teachers, school janitors and the parish secretary.

Food was donated by the merchants with whom the lunch program does business throughout the year.

Served Dinner

The Christian Mothers served the dinner and the eighth grade girls were waitresses. Cooks were Mrs. Lawrence Schroeder, head cook, and assistants Mrs. Gordon Brown, Mrs. Joseph Van Domelen, Mrs. Rudolph Brinko and Mrs. Floyd Slayton.

Entertainment included singing by Mrs. Francis Scholtz, accompanied by Francis Scholtz; Robert Van Domelen, accompanied by Rolfe Hebel, and the Packet Singers, made up of Sharon O'Leary, Floyd Slayton, Marty Verhoeven and David Vosters.

Wallace in Maryland

You can take your choice of interpretations on Governor Wallace's showing in the Maryland presidential primary. The 43 per cent of the Democratic party votes he garnered was better than his showing in Wisconsin (34 per cent) or Indiana (30 per cent). He declared that his showing "should let them know in Washington and in both national parties that they can't get rid of us by calling us bad names."

This is the last primary for Wallace, and he expressed regret he had not entered more, including California. But when one analyzes the situation, it is clear that Wallace picked only those primaries where unusual local conditions gave him an advantage from the start.

Certainly this was true in Wisconsin where he could count on anti-Reynolds votes from both Republicans and Democrats as well as votes against the Civil Rights Bill. And in Indiana his opponent, Governor Welsh, was in real trouble with voters for having put through a state sales tax this year.

In Maryland racial disorders have shaken certain areas for months. Wallace ran strong in these areas. He almost split the vote evenly with President Johnson's stand-in, Senator Brewster, in Baltimore. His strength in the city lay in those wards thickly populated with industrial workers, where there is a real fear that Negro progress will cost them their jobs.

Senator Brewster was not the strongest candidate the Democrats could have put up. His election to the Senate two years ago was his first venture into politics. He is not one of the old Democratic hands in Maryland.

There are areas in Maryland, particularly along the eastern shore of Chesapeake Bay, which cling to traditions of the Deep South. Here again Wallace did very well.

In view of these conditions, it might be somewhat surprising that Wallace did not outpoll Brewster.

There is still an old saying that a successful politician is one who can win elections. For a candidate who has won nothing in three primaries Governor Wallace is making a lot of boasts.

A New Look at South Africa

Although resolutions condemning South Africa's apartheid policy have been passed in the United Nations and there is a constant danger of a hideous race war breaking out in that part of the world, there are beginning to be a few second thoughts as far as living conditions of blacks, whites and coloreds are concerned in that country.

Part of the change has come through extensive public relations efforts of the government of South Africa. Brochures and booklets describing efforts of the government to bring out and promote native culture and improve living conditions gloss over or ignore the various regulations which imply that white people are members of a master race. But there are more objective viewpoints about the Republic of South Africa, too. And certainly one reason for another look is the picture of the varying degrees of tyranny, graft and economic chaos in so many of the other African nations.

Keith Pulvermacher, an Englishman who has lived in South Africa for fifteen years and is an active member of the Opposition party, writes in the National Observer of the efforts of the government to help the Bantu tribes.

"Generally in all social and economic fields, South Africa outstrips every other country in Africa, and in one field, housing, it probably leads the whole world." Improvement is relative, Pulvermacher admits, and the Bantu had a long way to go. But in some ways their conditions are better than those of Europe.

More than 300,000 houses have been built for the Bantu since 1951. They are neat, two or three bedroom affairs with running water and gardens and they rent for about $7 a month. The townships also have clinics, hospitals, "creches" where working mothers may leave their children for nominal charges and playgrounds.

Four out of five Bantu children now attend school. Pulvermacher writes, and the literacy rate has risen from zero to 57 per cent. Higher education opportunities are available and there are now Bantu doctors, lawyers, nurses, librarians, teachers and journalists. In the rest of Africa south of the Sahara, Pulvermacher claims a literacy rate of only 10 per cent among non-whites and only a meagre handful of educated blacks. It has been this lack, of course, in great part responsible for the chaotic conditions in the African countries. Pulvermacher claims that many Bantus have walked as far as 1000 miles to come to South Africa because of the good working and salary conditions and that some have even entered the nation illegally.

How does this rosy picture compare with the reports of violence, of humiliating regulations, of oppression?

In some ways it sounds suspiciously like the claims of southern white citizens councils that the southern Negro enjoys a second rate life and that all colored people are really little children who must be told what to do. Charges from segregationists like Governor Wallace that all integration agitation is Communist inspired is obviously nonsense. Segregation implies inferiority and probably apartheid does the same. Indoor plumbing and free clinics still do not make up for lack of respect.

But the refusal to accept real responsibility in the handling of their governments by many of the new African leaders, their seeking power and glory at the expense of their people, and some of the irresponsible civil rights demonstrations in the United States give evidence that liberty and equality do not in themselves mean responsibility or justice.

Like to Visit Red China?

The Bamboo curtain is rising a little, at least for travel through it in one direction. The Chinese Communists have adopted a new policy of encouraging tourists and they are making it a lot more pleasant for such tourists although the regulations are still strict.

There are two major reasons for the change of policy from the time when Red China defiantly kept out just about everyone and harassed any visitors who were permitted to enter. First, the Chinese need foreign currency which can come from money tourists spend in China. And also they want to encourage people to come and see for themselves the wonders of Chinese Communism—on a carefully conducted tour of the showplaces of the system of course.

This spring about 600 people visited Red China during the first three months, not a huge number but a 35 per cent increase over the same period last year. And the total number of visitors in 1963 about doubled that of 1962. Many of the visitors are from African and Latin American countries. But the majority are Chinese who no longer live on the mainland. And these in particular the Communists want to impress.

The Chinese in various other Asian countries have always been a remarkably self-sufficient segment of the community and in general unassimilated into the rest of the population. There are large numbers in many parts of Southeast Asia and they are no little concern to the local governments. They are excellent material to bring back the word of the glories of Communism from Canton and Peking.

Most of the tourists take a train from Hong Kong, walk across a bridge and board another train inside Red China for Canton. But the new friendship between Pakistan and China has meant air line connections to Canton and Shanghai.

Visitors are permitted to purchase food ration cards with their foreign currency so they are able to help their relatives who can't get out. They are provided with guides to see the right places and visas for just about everything.

United States citizens cannot visit Red China for fear of losing their passports although the constitutionality of this is currently being argued before the United States Supreme Court.

But the traffic goes in only one direction. Visitors have little trouble in getting out but those who live in China have found the chains being reformed and drawn tighter. The Red Chinese authorities had the unfortunate experience of discovering that Chinese students and others who were permitted to leave temporarily just didn't ever return.

40 Lawrence Students Volunteer

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton-Monitor for June 9, 1904.

There seems to be much misapprehension among the public concerning the continuance of school (Lawrence University) during the present term.

Although the school has suffered severely from the war, the sickness of the faculty and the threatened pestilence, nevertheless it has not yet met with sufficient obstacles to make it necessary to stop it, and President Mason stated recently in the College Chapel "that if the heavens remained above us and the earth beneath our feet the present term would continue its full time."

From the fact that some 40 students have gone to war does not necessitate closing of school, as they constituted but one-fourth of our whole number and already we hear that it is the intention of the literary societies to have their usual exercises as though nothing had happened, with this exception, they will unite their efforts and bring them forth on one evening.

With the excitement of the "hundred day men" over and the faculty restored to health, it is hoped that the remaining part of the term can be usefully and successfully employed.

(President Lincoln had called for enlistments for 100-day

There's Great Contrast in How Egypt Treats U. S., Russ Envoys

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

Military members of the U.S. embassy in Cairo are being subjected to an outrageous harassment.

Despite the fact that the U.S. has given President Gamal Nasser more than $92 million in economic aid in recent years, the military personnel of the U.S. embassy in Cairo are restricted to the immediate vicinity of the embassy.

The officers and enlisted men can't even travel freely about the city, to say nothing about the rest of the United Arab Republic.

In glaring contrast, the numerous military members of the Russian and other Iron Curtain embassies, including Cuba's, have complete freedom of movement. They can go anywhere and do constant, invariably traveling first-class and being treated with utmost deference.

The harshly restrictive Nasser policy toward U.S. military personnel has been accepted in silence by the U.S. government.

The State Department not only has not retaliated against this shocking affront, but hasn't even protested it. There is no known record of a single word of complaint being made to the blustering Egyptian dictator.

And in Washington, the sizable military staff of the U.A.R. embassy goes about the capital and the U.S. without any restraints. They live kosher, and Ed Clough, Green Bay, directors.

Appleton students Ben Houfek and Robert Moser were appointed to the annual senior ball committee at the University of Wisconsin. Houfek was named chairman of arrangements and Moser chairman of dormitory ticket sales.

Appointed to the staff of Camp Onaway, Appleton Girl Scout camp, were Miss Carolyn Boettcher, in charge of dramatics and music; Miss Margaret Plank, handicraft; Miss Jane Frank, outdoor cookery, and the Misses Florence Miller and Mary White, unit leaders.

10 YEARS AGO

Thursday, May 20, 1954.

The Appleton intersection of College Avenue, Richmond Street and Memorial Drive was newly constructed that summer and was about to get its initial layer of bituminous asphalt blacktopping that week.

Lee Gloudemans, Little Chute, received his Navy commission as an ensign at Pensacola, Fla. His mother, Mrs. Robert Gloudemans, pinned the wings on him. Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Rock, Appleton, accompanied the Navy airman's parents and attended the ceremony.

Eighth graders of Sacred Heart School, Sherwood, completed a course in first aid and were to receive their junior certificates from the American Red Cross. They were Bernadette Halbach, Gloria Kostelnik, Delilas Kees, Frances Sarawski, Margie Sprangers, Jo Ann Schmidt, Dennis Dorn, Ernest Bengart, Eugene Boshnick, Dennis Huhn, Mark Ritzke and Edward Schilling.

and travel luxuriously, entertain frequently and lavishly, and enjoy the best the U.S. offers in comfort, pleasures and liberty.

These Nasser "military diplomats" never had it so good, and are making the most of it—in striking contrast to the studiously ignominious confinement imposed on their U.S. opposite numbers in Cairo.

Significantly, the U.A.R. is the one Middle East country armed with the Soviets' powerful SA-2 high-level anti-aircraft missiles.

The U.A.R. is one of only four countries definitely known to have these deadly weapons—the others being Cuba, Indonesia and Red China. Except in Cuba, where the SA-2s are still largely manned and controlled by Russian crews, the missiles are operated by native personnel in these countries.

FUTILE APPEASEMENT—Senator Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, in bringing to light this shocking backstage situation, noted that approximately two-thirds—$75 million—of the $92.8 million given Nasser in economic aid has been extended in the past three years.

Further, that this aid is continuing. Last year it totaled $198.7 million, and so far this year is almost as large—in grain shipments, for which Nasser pays in his own currency, which remains in the U.A.R., and long-term loans at 4 1/2 per cent interest, with a moratorium on principal payment for the first ten years.

"In this manner," declared Gruening, "we have loaned Egypt immense sums, most of it since 1960. So far, $90 million has been repaid, most of it in Nasser's own currency, which he is at liberty to print at will, and which remains in his country. Whether these loans will ever be all repaid, only time will tell."

"In the meanwhile, the thousands of American victims of the earthquake and tidal wave in Alaska are being required to pay 3 per cent interest on loans from the Small Business Administration, although the law permits the head of that agency to fix a lower rate down to the 1/2 per cent given foreigners. I have repeatedly urged the S.B.A. administrator, who has the legal power to do so, to lower the interest rate charged Alaska disaster victims so they will be at least on a par with those to whom we make loans abroad."

"But, to date, these pleas have fallen on deaf ears. The S.B.A. administrator appears determined to maintain this double standard of discrimination against our own disaster-stricken people."

Among the numerous long-term, low-interest loans given Nasser, the following were cited by Gruening:

Power plant in Cairo, $30 million, one of the principal functions of this plant is to provide power for a giant radio station Nasser has erected to broadcast war-breeding propaganda throughout the explosive Middle East; $34.5 million for diesel locomotives; $17 million for grain storage and handling facilities for the huge quantities of U.S. grain he is buying with his own currency that remains in the U.A.R., thus virtually giving it to him for nothing; $30 million for so-called "economic stabilization"; $6 million from the Industrial Development Bank; $6.8 million for a bagasse pulp mill and a canning plant.

Noting that Premier Khrushchev has bestowed the two highest Soviet decorations on Nasser, Gruening caustically assailed State Department "appeasers" who consistently offer alibis and apologies for the turbulent U.A.R. dictator.

"They say Nasser has matured, that he does not mean what he says, that he would not take a rash step," said Gruening. "Why not? There are many in the administration charged with the conduct of foreign affairs who refuse to face the facts of life."

"Nasser is playing the Communist game. He is the Kremlin's stooge just as surely as if he had proclaimed it as loudly as has Castro. Ample proof of that is Khrushchev's war threats in the U.A.R. in recent days. The plain facts are that ever since Nasser adopted the policy of 'neutrality' in favor of Moscow he has been pursuing the Soviet line and espousing Soviet policy."

As clear evidence of that, Gruening cited Nasser's "bloody war of aggression in Yemen."

"Egyptian military forces have burned to death untold numbers of Yemenite men, women and children with Russian-made napalm bombs," said Gruening. "Hundreds of millions of U.S. dollars have been given to Nasser to help him wage this bloody and senseless war. And while people die in Yemen, our State Department apologizes for Nasser, continues to give him more dollars and aid, and calmly reiterates that Nasser is more moderate than he used to be."

Gruening flatly charged that Nasser, in addition to waging merciless war in Yemen, also is covertly opposing U.S. foreign policy.

"In the past year, Nasser has repeatedly attempted to circumvent U.S. foreign policy, wherever, whenever and however he could," asserted Gruening. "He has attempted to add fuel to the fires now raging in Cyprus. He has urged Libya to throw the U.S. off its military base in that country, a base constructed and maintained at immense cost to American taxpayers, and for which we have paid millions in blackmail to the government of Libya."

"How does one explain the silence of our State Department and the silence of our representatives in the United Nations in the face of these indisputable facts? The only explanation I can offer is that these authorities, through the years, have lacked the wisdom and the intestinal fortitude to stand up for the best interests of the United States. They have been so zealous in support of Nasser's moves that they have overlooked the basic fact that his insatiable self-aggrandizement works directly against the best interests of our country."

Mass Education Past High School Posing Huge Problem in State

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON—One of the great gaps in the wave of discussion about extension of educational opportunities beyond the high school is the fact that the existing vocational and adult schools have been generally ignored by the officials of the higher education system who have been leading the expansion movement.

Thus one of the significant developments lately was the Regents of State Colleges urging the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education to examine the existing post-high school programs in those schools and their potential capacity for such service.

In the sometimes cumbersome language of officialdom, the regents put their questions in this way:

1. Is it sound economics to ask a community to support a new branch campus center and a vocational school? 2. Are adequate provisions being made for high school graduates the lower spectrum of academic talent? 3. What plans have been developed for close articulation between the collegiate and vocational units?

THE QUESTION

Most persons standing a step beyond the institutional interests of the University of Wisconsin, on the one hand, and the state colleges, on the other, would accept these as valid questions.

There is today a visible and powerful movement for mass education beyond the high school—something like the universal high school opportunity demand of three or four decades ago. Smaller cities all over Wisconsin are anticipating the development of some kind of collegiate institution within their own precincts. But it is clear that the development of such enriched educational service will pose many and difficult questions, not all of which some of the most aggressive and enthusiastic of the promoters of decentralized post-high school education have yet acknowledged.

Considering non-economic matters first, it is evident that if the colleges and the universities maintain their present admissions and performance standards, many thousands of young people will be denied those opportunities because they are in "the lower spectrum of academic talent," as the college regents so delicately put it. It must be presumed also that a reduction in the academic standards of the existing four-year institutions—and their branches—will be regarded as intolerable by their own faculties and the state at large.

DOLLARS

More important in resolving the increasingly audible demand for out-state post-high school educational opportunity is the economic burden of such programs. The state treasury is financing its present generous program of higher education with the greatest difficulty. Prospective demands for money for those institutions and other burgeoning state services are such that future tax liability upon Wisconsin citizens will make the labored tax-tinkering of the last two fiscal interludes seem to be mildly irritating interludes.

As it stands now, the higher education system is threatened with a competitive race between the state colleges and the universities for the establishment of new branches. Both want to expand into localities which already have locally-financed vocational schools which are easily adapted to expansion into college-level academic fields. Some in fact have already done so.

Educators and the public have not yet become accustomed to regarding the local vocational schools as part of "higher education." Yet the 1963 legislature brought that program within the jurisdiction of the Coordinating Committee precisely because the local schools are increasingly providing post-high school credits to young men and women who for one reason and another can't or won't attend the regular state colleges and universities.

As the college regents said, the Coordinating Committee must consider those local schools at a time when the foundations are being laid for multi-million dollar extensions of the state-supported higher education program that will create a pattern lasting for generations.

Strictly Personal

Women Are Great Levelers of Men

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Purely Personal Prejudices: A naive "idealism" is the stance of a man who is too far removed from a problem, while a crude "realism" is the stance of a man who is too close to a problem; combining both in proper balance is possible only for one standing at the right distance, who can achieve a perspective undistorted by closeness or remoteness.

It is useless to teach a child "good habits" unless he is also taught to take pleasure in doing them; a joyless discipline in early training produces personalities who are frozen with duty or burning with rebellion, but rarely those who can live in the temperate zone of life. Being told what we don't know isn't nearly as important or valuable as being reminded of what we have found it convenient to forget: the great follies of mankind are committed not out of ignorance but out of spiritual amnesia.

One of the singular distinctions of an author is that he is the only person who can remain a bore long after he is dead.

The vagaries of politics become intelligible only if we accept the truth of Muno's observation: "People vote their resentments, not their appreciation—the average man does not vote for anything, but against something."

Advice on how to succeed from an unsuccessful man is met with ridicule or contempt, while advice on how to succeed from a successful man is met with respect and consideration—yet the latter is incapable of transmitting his secret, an often does not know himself, which particular ingredients are responsible for his fortune.

Women are the great levelers of men: they are able to tell, almost at a glance, the flaws and weaknesses in a great man, and the merits in a fool.

By trying to be more than we can be, we often end up being less than we ought to be—the person who aspires to be saintly usually misses rising even to the level of ordinary humankind.

A great city is one that encourages differences and rejoices in variety; no matter how large the size, if a city values homogeneity more than diversity, it remains but a glorified small town.

If men had their way, they would buy nothing but old clothes that fit comfortably and look shapeless—so how can they understand a woman's need to buy a new wardrobe each season? Can the cabbage-leaf comprehend the rose-bush?

Historical Note in a Television Age: A little boy I know, asked by his younger sister if it were true that Samson's strength resides in his hair, replied: "Only his hair-dresser knows for sure!"

Judge Hits At Boycott Of Schools

MILWAUKEE (AP)—In an argument touched off by a request for leniency for a Negro prostitute, County Judge Christ T. Seraphim said Tuesday the boycott of Milwaukee public schools was a "goofy stunt."

"If the time and money spent on the boycott Monday had been spent on learning family living and parenthood or trying to get parents to motivate their children to go to school and take advantage of job opportunities," the judge said, "more good would have been done."

"You are not going to get civil rights by civil wrongs." The argument developed when an attorney asked probation for Mrs. Georgia Reed, 37. A presentence investigation showed six of her seven children were illegitimate.

His attorney, Theodore Cogg, said Mrs. Reed was illiterate and sending her to the women's state prison at Taycheedah would not solve anything. Seraphim said he should have put her on probation to leaders of the school boycott.

"I ought to place these kind of women on probation to Vel Phillips, Lloyd Barbee, John Givens and your brother, Isaac Cogg," said Seraphim. He sentenced Mrs. Reed to a year in prison.

MILWAUKEE (AP)—James W. Dorsey, a widely known attorney, said Tuesday he was resigning his membership in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) as a protest of Monday's public school boycott.

Dorsey, 67, who is a past president of the Milwaukee NAACP, said the organization "allows itself to be dictated to by other so-called civil rights groups."

Dorsey, who was appointed Milwaukee County's first Negro court commissioner earlier in the month said he "hated to see the NAACP falling in line with other civil rights groups that use techniques other than legal redress."

Bangsberg New President of Bemidji College

BERMIDJI, Minn. (AP)—Dr. Harry Bangsberg, 36, former assistant director of the Wisconsin Board of State College Regents, has accepted the presidency of Bemidji State College effective Sept. 1. It was announced Tuesday.

A native of Minneapolis, Bangsberg is executive secretary of the Higher Education Coordinating Council of St. Louis. He was offered the Bemidji post by the Minnesota

Name AHS Senior Optimist Club's Youth of Month

Douglas Gruehn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gruehn of Appleton, has been named winner of the Appleton Optimist Club's youth of the month award.

Jerry Depies, youth of month program chairman, made the presentation.

A summarization of recommendations from Douglas' pastor, faculty members and friends included mention of his volunteer work with teenagers at Winnebago State Hospital.

Also cited were his various activities in scouting and at Appleton High School where he is a senior. He is a member of Quill and Scroll, the library staff, student council, high school and "pop" bands and is sports editor for the Talker.

Douglas also is a Densley officer, a Pilgrim Fellowship member and was chosen last year as a representative to a Youth Fellowship clinic at Purdue University.

A trumpet player, he also has played with the city band for three years and has participated in various district and state competition for music students.

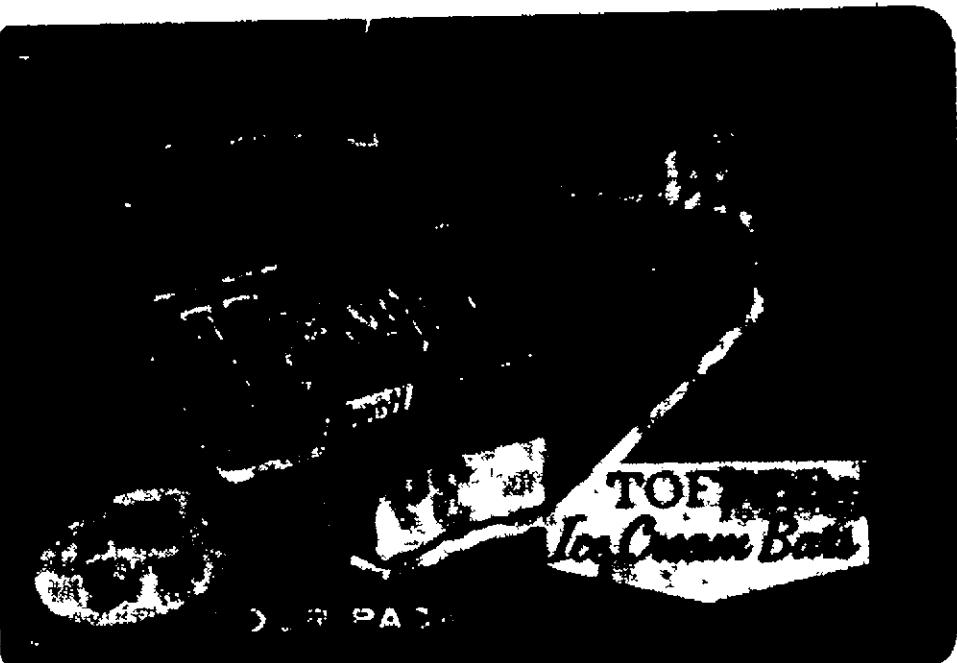

College Board and visited the campus over the weekend. The job pays $17,000 a year.

Bangsberg grew up in La Crosse. His father, Roy L. Bangsberg, is retired editor of the La Crosse Tribune.

Equal Employment Section Attracts Many Amendments

Portion of Civil Rights Bill Opens Way for Federal Law

BY JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — In the 11 weeks of Senate debate and cloakroom bargaining on the civil rights bill, much of the attention has focused on the equal employment section.

It has attracted a large share of the scores of amendments proposed to change the bill.

The equal opportunity section, known as Title Seven, is one of two provisions which break ground for federal law. The other is the public accommodations provision aimed at discrimination in hotels and motels, restaurants and amusement places.

Republican and Democratic Senate leaders and administration officials have accepted a number of amendments to the job title as part of a whole package of changes. They hope the proposed changes will win the bill the two-thirds majority needed to break the Southern filibuster.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, chief author of the compromise package of amendments, is fond of pointing out there was no equal employment provision in the original civil rights bill submitted to Congress last year by the late President John F. Kennedy.

But Dirksen has said he can support its retention if his suggestions for changing it are accepted.

As the bill cleared the House, it would ban discrimination in any phase of employment or membership on the part of employers, unions or employment agencies on grounds of race, color, religion, national origin or sex.

It would apply to companies and unions with 100 or more employees or members in the first year, 75 or more in the second, 50 or more in the third, and 25 thereafter.

A five-member Equal Employment Opportunity Commission would be created to receive complaints.

Settle Complaints
The commission is directed to try to settle any complaint by conciliation and persuasion. But if those methods fail, it may bring an injunction suit to end the discrimination.

Dirksen's agreed-upon package of amendments would modify this so that the commission could call on the attorney general to bring a suit only if a pattern of discrimination existed.

In individual cases, the aggrieved person would have to file suit, although the attorney general would be allowed to intervene.

Under the House bill, the federal commission could allow a state or local agency to handle a complaint if it found that the agency was functioning effectively.

Dirksen's amendments would strengthen power of the states by giving them exclusive jurisdiction of any case for a specific period. Thirty-one states now have fair employment practices laws of some type.

Southern senators simply want Title Seven eliminated.

They argue that it would give the federal government far too much power to interfere in hiring, firing and promotions.

The voting rights section of the House bill, Title One, would extend the federal powers in this field contained in the 1957 Civil Rights Act.

It would require that identical standards be applied to all voters in elections for federal officials, provide that immaterial errors on registration forms must be disregarded, and require that literacy tests must be in writing unless the individual agrees to an oral test.

In voter discrimination suits brought by the attorney general under the 1957 law, the presumption is created by the 1964 bill that a sixth-grade education is sufficient to meet the literacy test.

The attorney general is allowed to request that a three-judge court be set up to hear such suits.

Southern senators bitterly attack the latter provision, contending it would allow the attorney general to shop around for a favorable court.

They also insist that the title constitutes an additional interference with the right of states to control their own elections.

'We Can't Afford to Stand Pat,' Bears' Halas Says; May Make Deal

NEW YORK (AP) — George Halas at 69 is as comfortably fixed as a man could be. He owns the Chicago Bears. He has just proved himself again by winning another championship. But he wants more.

"We can't afford to stand pat," Halas told newsmen at the spring meeting of the National Football League. "We are talking to people. It could be that we will make a deal."

A Baltimore writer asked Halas if he was looking for a flanker-type back.

"You can always use a flanker back," said Halas. "Are you suggesting you would give us Lenny Moore?"

Germ of Truth

Halas spoke in jest, of course, but there was a germ of truth to his suggestion. The Baltimore Colts could be persuaded to part with Moore in the right deal. It so happens that Halas has four big defensive ends who might appeal to the Colts, especially if Gino Marchetti goes through with his announced retirement.

Halas didn't hang out too much hope of a trade.

"You have to improve personnel wise or technically," was the way he put it. He improved "technical" wise last year with his so-called simplified defense that led the league in 10 of 14 defensive departments.

"All the clubs will be shooting at our defense," said Halas. "We almost know how they will try to break it. But I think we can improve our defense."

Halas also plans to improve his offense, perhaps opening it up a little more. In 1963 the Bears won by controlling the ball on Bill Wade's short passes and the running of Ron Bull. Joe Marconi and Willie Galt more.

Dick Evey, a tackle from Tennessee who was the Bears' No. 1 draft choice, is the club's lead-Appleton Coated Paper took command of the American Industrial Softball League with a 7-2 win over AAL.

Post-Crescent downed City Hall, 10-3, and Elm Tree rolled to a 14-1 win over Miller Electric No. 1.

Bob Hietpas picked up the victory for Coated Paper on a 5-hit performance. Rog Wilke rapped out three hits, including a triple, for the victors. Don Schroeder led the losers with two hits.

Sonny Kneepkens fashioned a 7-hitter against City Hall as the P-C contingent mustered a 10-hit attack off Bud Koehnke.

Dick Kimball led P-C with three hits. Ron Olm and McGinnis had two hits each for the losers.

Corbet Harbor, Al Harke, Gene Matz and Conrad had two hits for Elm Tree. Bert Tardiff was the winning pitcher. Carl Radtke and Jim Mendleski collected a pair of hits for the losers.

Willie Mays Goes Without Hit Again

Phillies Move Back Into Lead; Cardinals Nip Chicago Cubs, 1-0

BY MIKE RATHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

"It can't go on," said Willie Mays.

He's right. One of these days he's got to get a hit.

Mays made the prediction less than two weeks ago when he was smacking the ball at a 478 clip, but it's just as apt now with Willie struggling to break out of a deep slump that has shriveled his average to .303.

Mays went hitless for the fifth straight game and Juan Marichal had his 12-game victory string snapped Wednesday as the St. Louis Cardinals lost to Philadelphia 7-3 and tumbled into second place behind the National League-leading Phillies.

Mays' 8-for-3 performance dropped him under the 400 mark for the first time since the opening days of the season and left him with a string of 10 hitless trips to the plate. In the last nine games, Mays is only 3-for-27, a .111 clip that has whacked 85 points off his batting average.

John Callison of the Phillies added to his average with a 5-for-6 performance, stroking a homer and four singles, driving in three runs and scoring twice as the Phillies handed Marichal his first defeat since Aug. 30, 1963, and left the Giant ace with a 4-1 record.

Meanwhile, the St. Louis Cardinals moved to within one game of first place by edging the Chicago Cubs 1-0 behind Bob Gibson's four-hit, 12-strikeout pitching.

Elsewhere, Joe Torre hit a grand-slam homer and drove in five runs in Milwaukee's 7-3 victory over Cincinnati, the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the New York Mets 4-1 and Pittsburgh nipped Houston 4-3.

A single by Bolling, who was sacrificed, and Mathews' double put the Braves ahead in the seventh. In the ninth, Sadowski singled with one out and Mike de la Hoz added a single. Aaron was walked intentionally to fill the bases and bring up Torre. His grand slam delivered the runs that provided the victory margin.

The Reds loaded the bases in the ninth on successive singles by Johnny Edwards, Gordy Coleman and Pete Rose. Sadowski was excused when he hit Harper on the hand with a pitch to force in a run. Left-hander Hoeft was called to the rescue and was equal to the task.

Phil Niekro Sent Down Milwaukee Recalls Schneider From Denver

CINCINNATI (AP)—The ever-changing Milwaukee Braves have dipped into the farm system for some pitching help, calling up left-hander Dan Schneider from Denver in the Pacific Coast League.

Schneider, who was 3-0 at Denver, was recalled just before the Braves took the field Wednesday night and went on to a 7-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. Knuckeball reliever Phil Niekro was dispatched to Denver.

Schneider was brought up to add a little muscle to the bullpen, which came through in the person of Billy Hoeft Wednesday night Hoeft fanned the last two Reds to ease the Braves out of a bases loaded jam in the last of the ninth.

Series of Calls

Manager Bobby Bragan said the decision to call up Schneider was made in a series of long distance phone calls with John McHale, the Braves president and general manager.

"We know Schneider can get the ball over the plate and he just might be an even better pitcher up here than in the minors," Bragan said. "I have seen players like that."

He said the choice for minor league duty was between Niekro and Jack Smith. Niekro, failed to figure in a decision with the Braves while posting a 4.80 earned run average. Smith cost the Braves $25,000 in a draft deal, and should be returned to the Los Angeles Dodgers organization, Milwaukee defeating San Francisco 7-2.

'Boog' Powell Paces Baltimore to Virtual Deadlock for AL Lead

Harmon Killebrew Slams 2 Homers Against Yankees

BY MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Boog go Boon!

That might sound like baby talk, but it's carried the Baltimore Orioles into a virtual tie for first place in the American League.

Boog is John Powell, the Orioles' 22-year-old left fielder whose bat has been booming recently. He clouted a two-run homer Wednesday night in Baltimore's 8-3 triumph over Kansas City.

The victory put the Orioles even in games but 27 percentage points behind the Chicago White Sox, who were idle Wednesday.

In his last eight games, Powell has slugged five homers, in the fifth when the Orioles knocked in 12 runs and has batted at a .435 clip. His surge has raised his average 69 points to 233. His home run total is seven, his RBI mark 22.

Baltimore has won six of the eight games and 10 of the last 13.

Powell's two-run homer in the latest victory climaxed a five-run rally in the fifth and helped Milt Pappas to his third straight victory after two defeats.

John Kennedy and Harmon Killebrew also were batting stars in the AL Wednesday. Kennedy smashed two home runs and a single as Washington trounced Detroit 10-3. Killebrew hit his 10th and 11th homers in Minnesota's 7-4 victory over New York. Boston ripped Los Angeles 4-3 in the other game.

Pappas limited the Athletics to five hits while his mates pounded Deigo Segui and Jack Aker. Brooks Robinson drove in three runs, two with a double and a single, in the fifth when the Orioles knocked in 12 runs and has batted at a .435 clip. His surge has raised his average 69 points to bases for the Orioles, giving him 17 in 20 attempts.

Kennedy's hitting helped halt Detroit's four-game winning streak. He hit a homer in the first and another in the fifth. He singled across a run in the eighth when three Tiger errors helped the Senators to five runs. Dick Phillips contributed two RBIs to Washington's attack.

Bill Freehan and George Thomas slammed homers in the seventh for the Tigers off Claude Osteen, who evaded his record at 3-3.

Killebrew took the league lead in home runs with his pair. His first blast came with one aboard in the Twins' five-run first inning against Ralph Terry. He connected again in the eighth.

Tony Oliva also clouted a two-run homer in the first, helping Camilo Pascual to his fifth triumph against two defeats. Pascual held the Yankees to two runs until Johnny Blanchard smacked a two-run homer in the ninth.

Deciding Run
Boston scored two runs in the seventh for its victory over Los Angeles. Ed Bressoud's single drove in Roman Mejias with the deciding run after Dalton Jones doubled home Bob Tili-man with the tying run.

The Angels had taken a 3-2 lead in their seventh on Billy Moran's triple and pinch hitter Bob Rodgers' single.

Olympic Boxing Coach Foresees Bright Future

10-Man Team Led By Buster Mathis, 295-Pound Giant

BY MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—The coach of the American Olympic boxing team doesn't want to go out on a limb until he sees what other nations have to offer but he believes "we have a good, solid team."

The 10-man team determined by the three-day Olympic Trials which ended Wednesday night, includes Buster Mathis, the 6-foot-3, 295-pound, 19-year-old giant from Grand Rapids, Mich.

Buster, known also as Little Big Daddy, delighted most of a crowd of 1,500 in the Singer Bowl at the World's Fair by outspeeding and outpointing Joe Frazier, the 195-pound knockout artist from Philadelphia, in the heavyweight wind-up of a rousing card of 10 finals.

Fast For Big Man
"He's real fast for a big man," said M. Sgt. Freddie Lemm of the Camp Pendleton Marines, who will coach the Tokyo-bound boxers. "He makes good moves and jabs well. He's a good boy."

The other nine winners were flyweight Bob Carmody, 25, of Fort Campbell, Ky., and Brooklyn; bantamweight Lou Johnson, 25, of Bolling AFB and Portland, Ore.; featherweight Charley Brown, 25, of the Camp Pendleton Marines and Cincinnati; lightweight Ron Harris, 17, of Detroit; light welterweight Charley Ellis, 20, of the Army's Eighth Division and Louisville; welterweight Maurice Frilot, 23, of Camp Pendleton and Denver; light middleweight Toby Gibson, 21, of Spokane, Wash.; middleweight Jim Rosette, 26, a Navy airman from San Diego; and light heavyweight Harley Cooper, 29, of the Offutt AFB, Omaha.

Meet Set Friday

Hortonville Defends Little 9 Track Title

The Hortonville Polar Bears, coached by Robert Newhouse, will be shooting for their fourth straight Little Nine Conference track championship at Lawrence College's Whiting Field Friday.

Field events will commence at 1 p.m., with the track events slated for 1:30.

Omro's Foxes pose the biggest hurdle in Hortonville's quest of a fourth straight title. The Foxes have but two losses on their 1964 slate, one to Hortonville, 62½-55½, and a second in a triangular with Menasha and Waupaca.

Dan Sambs heads the Hortonville contingent. The versatile point-winner will compete in the shot put, discus and high hurdles. Roger Ellenbecker heads the 800 men with Larry Schimke slated for the pole vault.

Top competition will be seen in the 100 and 220-yard dashes with three possible standouts. Hilbert's Gary Schmitz, Omro's Bruce Bukiewicz and Hortonville's Chuck Brenneke have all recorded good times.

Reedsville's lineup is headed by Dan Stelzer in the 440 and low hurdles and Walden Ramaker in the mile. Freedom has an outstanding prospect in Bill VanderWetterling in the lows.

Defending individual champions entered are Omro's Glenn Tews in the shot put, and Ron Bieber in the 440. Winneconne's Dan Vandenberg won the pole vault in '63 and will seek to repeat.

Bob Mernok, of Omro, is a threat in the high hurdles and the Polar Bear medley relay foursome of Keith Krause, Ralph Wohlt, Alan Krull and Dave Wendt is also a top threat.

Elmer VanHorn leads Shioction's bid in the mile

Killebrew Proves Prophet After Visiting Boy at Hospital

NEW YORK (AP) — Eight-year-old John Guiney lay in his hospital bed Wednesday surrounded by baseball magazines and bubble gum cards. The door to his room opened and a heavy-set man walked in, caught fire while he was lighting the altar candles in his parish church and he received first degree burns over 50 per cent of his body.

The man was his favorite baseball player, Harmon Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins. John has been in the hospital for several weeks. His robes caught fire while he was lighting the altar candles in his parish church and he received first degree burns over 50 per cent of his body.

The main topic of conversation since he came to New York Hospital has been Killebrew. So with the cooperation of the New York Daily News, a visit was arranged. "How old are you, John?" asked Killebrew. "Eight." "That's a coincidence," said Killebrew, who has four children. "I have a boy who's eight too."

YESTERDAY'S STARS — Bob Gibson, Cardinals, stopped Chicago Cubs 1-0 on four hits, struck out 12 and walked none, retiring the last 17 men in order while bringing his record to 4-4.

Xavier Net Team Blanks Zephyrs, 7-0

Xavier's netters blanked St. Mary, 7-0, Wednesday afternoon, winning all matches in straight sets. The Hawks posted a 4-3 verdict over the Zephyrs earlier in the season.

Singles winners were Paul Putzer (over Jim Langner, 7-6, 6-1), Gary Gunderson (over Mike Krippene, 6-4, 6-1), Frank McGinnis (over Kim Vanderhyden, 6-1, 6-1), Bob Van Damelen (over Mike Kettenhoven, 6-3, 6-2) and Steve Schmieder (over Mike Gage 6-3, 6-3).

Neenah High School won its second straight Fox Valley Freshman League track title by scoring 36 points Tuesday on the Appleton High School track. Roosevelt missed on its bid for a triple crown (having won the football and basketball titles) by finishing second, with 32½ points.

Other team scores were: Wisconsin, 18; Madison, 17; Menasha, 12; Kimberly, 10½; and Kaukauna, nine.

Neenah won four events and Roosevelt three. No records were set, and there were no double winners. An eighth grader, Roosevelt's Bob Manwell, won the pole vault event. Three of the other four placers in the pole vault are also eighth graders.

Terror Net Team Downs Papermakers

The Appleton High School tennis team warmed up for the Fox Valley Conference meet here Saturday by scoring an 8-1 victory over Kimberly Wednesday afternoon.

The Terrors made a clean sweep of the singles matches and won two of three in the doubles.

The lone victory for Kimberly came in the No. 1 doubles where Tom Cattanech and Mark Seidel defeated Brian Bock and Dave Hem.

The summary:
Singles: Jeff Rushton (A) beat Tom Cattanech 6-0, 6-0. Keith Gibson (A) beat Mark Seidel 6-0, 6-0. Paul Schumaker (A) beat John DeWitt 7-5, 6-2. Scott Caldie (A) beat Bob Van Gompel 6-4, 2-6, 7-5. Don Olson (A) beat Dennis Vanevenhoven 6-1, 6-0. John Shilling (A) beat George Sylvester 6-0, 6-0.

KHS Golf Team Edged 229-231 By Two Rivers

KAUKAUNA—The Kaukauna High School golf team dropped a narrow decision to Two Rivers on the Branch River Country Club Tuesday as the host team took a 229 to 231 win.

Medalist in the 9-hole event was Don Oestreich of the winners with a 42 followed by Bob Suettinger of the winners with 43. Others on the winning team and scores were Dick Wachowski, 47; Rick Klabunde, 47, and Ken Bonfigt, 49.

Low man for Kaukauna was Tom Hanby with 44 followed by Dave Keough and Terry McCarty with 45. Ron Kiefer with 46 and Ken Van Den Broek, 51.

Mauldin Receives Distinguished Service Award!

This month, artist Bill Mauldin received the coveted Sigma Delta Chi Award for Distinguished Service in Journalism. His recent sketch of the military hat of the late General Douglas MacArthur caused considerable comment among our readers, but it was the poignant portrayal of the sorrowing Abraham Lincoln on the day President John Kennedy was assassinated for which he was honored by the journalism fraternity. Mauldin's work appears regularly on the editorial page of the Post-Crescent.

This is the kind of journalistic artistry available every day in . . .

Fifth Grade Is Cause Of a Family's Crisis

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—There is nothing like a disaster to bring a family close together.

That is the only nice thing I can say about the fifth grade of grammar school.

There are only three of us in our family—me, my wife Frances and our daughter, Tracy.

Ann.

As I see it, this is hardly that ordeal.

Enough. To get through the fifth grade successfully, you need a larger family. I would think a family of about 12 would be right—of whom one would be in the fifth grade. And the other eleven would spend most of their time helping him get through that ordeal.

Naturally, such a family would include a professional mathematician, a doctor, a lawyer, a judge, an engineer, a lexicongist, an anthropologist, a carpenter, a botanist, an Eagle Scout, a musician, a physical culturist and an all-around intellectual.

As I remember education in my own youth, it crept upon one gradually. It was a gathering residue. You learned by degrees.

This is not true any more.

Now educators bookbump the child. And the parents too. They cony them through kindergarten and the first four grades. Kids skip joyously through this prelude to knowledge land in hand. It is such fun.

Then in the fifth grade they suddenly lower the boom. All at once the child is in Harvard Graduate School. And not just the child. The whole family.

Life becomes a terrible quiz game.

"Daddy, we are studying the multiplication of fractions. Can you help me?"

Well, have you ever tried to multiply a fraction after the age of 40? It simply can't be done.

Collective Noun

"Daddy, give me an example of a collective noun."

Well, if you mention the finance company or the loan department of the bank, it turns out that isn't what the teacher meant.

"Daddy, I have to write a science essay on Pleistocene glaciation. How shall I begin?"

"Begin?" When a fellow gets a clear field on a fascinating topic like that how can he ever bear to quit?

Home is no longer home to me. Home is where my wife and I try to help our daughter do her homework.

So far the teacher is giving our family pretty fair grades. We no longer worry about getting our daughter into a good college. Our ambition is to get her through the fifth grade.

Learning is for the young. We can't take it anymore.

Stevenson Says U.S. to Help Stop Red Attacks

State Republicans See Presidential Nomination Fight

Goldwater Appears to Have Edge on Eve of Convention

BY HARVEY BREUSCHER

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Wisconsin Republicans move into their election year convention Friday with state candidate endorsements tailored and with only bids for an expression on a favorite for president straining party seams.

The drive to put the convention on record in support of a presidential candidate is powered by backers of Sen. Barry Goldwater. It's known to have picked up enough momentum to bring an organizational man for Gov. Nelson Rockefeller to the Milwaukee convention to stem the tide.

At least one district delegation has submitted a resolution that would ask Wisconsin's favorite son to vote for Goldwater on the second ballot in the party's national convention. The delegation is bound to Rep. John W. Byrnes of Green Bay on the first roll call.

May Shelve Request
The resolution comes from the state's new 9th Congressional District, which encompasses western Waukesha County and a string of northern and western Milwaukee suburbs.

The resolutions committee, anxious to maintain convention peace, is not expected to advance the request. But that can't stop the Goldwater contingent if it can muster the county delegation backers needed to introduce the resolution from the convention floor.

Wayne Hood of La Crosse, a former state chairman who heads Wisconsin's volunteers for Goldwater, contends he hasn't taken a hand in the latest move to get state convention delegates behind the Arizona senator. But Hood planted the idea months ago and tried to

French Favor Joint Pledge Of Neutrality

Wants Guarantee Extended to All of Southeast Asia

PARIS (AP)—France declared today the only solution for the crisis in Laos is guaranteed neutrality, and urged this be extended to all Southeast Asia as its only assurance of peace and independence.

Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville told a Cabinet meeting:

"There is no other solution to the problem of Laos than the respect of neutrality guaranteed by the interested powers. A true and sincere solution of neutralization must extend to all of Southeast Asia. It is the sole guarantee of the peace and independence of the states."

British Appeal
In extending the call for neutralization of all Southeast Asia, the foreign minister was restating the stand of President Charles de Gaulle, who also contends the only solution for the Vietnamese war is neutralization.

The French stand came as the British government announced its support for a call by Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma of Laos for a meeting in Vientiane, the Laotian capital, of the 14 nations who signed the agreement in Geneva in 1962 setting up Laos as a neutral nation.

A British Foreign Office statement said the British government earnestly hopes Souvanna's proposal "to stop the fighting in Laos and to restore the situation there will meet with a positive response from all concerned."

Couve de Murville said that France will agree to the new conference on Laos at any site acceptable to the 14 nations concerned. He said France would like to have the conference in Geneva but would not insist upon it.

His approval Wednesday of what he called "a program for action designed to move the super-sonic aircraft closer to realization" came 20 days after the original May 1 deadline for deciding the airliner's basic design and selecting a contractor to build it.

The United States entered the super-sonic plane race after a British-French combine announced plans for a 1,400-mile-an-hour plane. The U.S. plane is expected to be in the 1,800-2,000-mile-an-hour class, and its development is considered vital to this nation's global aviation position in the 1970s.

Caspersen admitted the slaying of Eleanor Kaatz, 18, after he grabbed her as she was on the way to school. She suffered more than 50 stab wounds.

Caspersen appeared Wednesday before Marathon County Judge Ronald Keberle.

Promises Aid as Long As People Continue to Fight for Independence

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—U.S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson told today that the United States will continue to defend Southeast Asia against Communist attacks as long as the people of the area are determined to preserve their independence.

Stevenson told the council: "The United States cannot stand by while Southeast Asia is over-run by armed aggression. As long as the peoples of that area are determined to preserve their own independence and ask for our help in preserving it, we will extend it. This, of course, is the meaning of President Johnson's request a few days ago for additional funds for more economic and military assistance for Vietnam."

And if anyone has the ill-

Senate Leaders See End of Filibuster

Claim Votes for Cloture, Civil Rights Vote in June

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic and Republican leaders claim enough votes are in sight to halt the Southern filibuster and pass the civil rights bill next month.

The optimistic forecast came from Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey, the assistant Democratic leader and floor manager for the bill, and Everett M. Dirksen, the Republican leader and chief architect of a package of amendments designed to win over undecided senators.

Work on Other Bills
With the showdown put off until early June, the leadership called on the Senate Appropriations Committee and others to catch up on their big backlog of bills until the civil rights fireworks start again.

The Senate is no longer being called in two hours early, and Saturday sessions may be abandoned.

Humphrey told reporters, "We will most likely file a cloture petition early in June."

"As we see it," the Minnesota senator added, "we will have enough votes to obtain cloture on the package."

Narrow Margin
Dirksen, in a separate interview, said he too hopes that once the cloture petition is offered there will be enough votes to limit debate. But, he added, "I must acknowledge the margin will be narrow."

Cloture is a device for chok-

Fin, Member Of Peace Force, Slain on Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Turkish Cypriots were blamed today for the first fatality in the U.N. peace force on Cyprus.

U.N. headquarters announced a Finnish radio operator, Juhani Matikainen, 27, was killed Wednesday night in a two-hour battle between Turkish Cypriots and Finnish patrols.

A U.N. statement said Matikainen was hit by three bullets while sitting in his patrol car in fields near the Turkish village of Kanli, six miles northwest of Nicosia.

The car had accompanied a recovery team to aid another Finnish vehicle that broke down while providing an escort for farmers bringing in their harvest.

Turkish positions fired about 20 shots at the Finnish vehicle, the U.N. statement said. Lt. Col. U. Ketinen, commander of the Finnish battalion, rushed to the area with a platoon and two armored personnel carriers in response for a radio plea for help.

Kills 7, Then Takes Own Life

Man With Shotgun Wounds 6 in 2-Hour Attacks From Car

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—A man with a shotgun rampaged through Nassau's southern suburbs Wednesday night killing seven persons — including himself — and wounding six in a two-hour automobile foray.

"It was one of the worst nights in my experience," said Chief Criminal Investigator Stanley Moir.

Dozens of police, who had cordoned off a two-square-mile area and searched it in vain for the slayer, found Ruben Rolle, 30, in his home, dead of shotgun wounds. The weapon lay nearby.

Motive Not Learned
Police Commissioner Nigel Morris said authorities did not establish a motive immediately but "the first person he shot was his wife."

Police said Rolle went berserk, took a friend's automobile and roared through South Nassau, leaving a wake of bodies, and terrified telephone callers beseeching police help.

All those slain except Mrs. Rolle were men. The hospitalized people all were neighbors. Police hoped some would be able to give them an inkling of what touched off the shootings.

Soviet Trawlers Off San Francisco Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two Soviet trawlers are cruising off the San Francisco coast but the Navy says it has them under surveillance.

The vessels were sighted Wednesday near the Farallon Islands, 26 miles west of San Francisco.

A Navy spokesman said the craft have been tracked since May 10 when they were first seen near San Clemente Island off Southern California.

Negro Jurors Mistreated, They Assert

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—As the foreman was about to read a civil rights trial jury's decision Wednesday, one of two Negro jurors stood up and shouted, "I was assassinated and crucified in the jury room because I am a Negro."

The charges touched off a near riot in the courtroom and caused Judge Andrew J. Eymann to declare a mistrial.

One courtroom spectator, William Bancroft, 20, was arrested for hitting a court bailiff.

Jurors Geraldine Earp and Josephine Nichols made their charges after the jury had deliberated 25 hours following the two-week trial of 14 defendants.

Says He Was on Trail
"I want to be excused. I put myself on trial the minute I walked into the jury room because I am a Negro," Mrs. Earp said.

White members of the jury said the Negro women disregarded the evidence and the judge's instructions and decided the case on a civil rights basis.

Later a jury in the court of Municipal Judge Lawrence Mana convicted 12 defendants who were arrested in the Cadillac agency on charges of trespassing and unlawful assembly.

Of 509 demonstrators arrested in the Sheraton-Palace Hotel and various auto agencies demonstrations in March and April, 35 have been convicted and 45 acquitted. Four cases have been dismissed and 14 have pleaded no contest.

Engineer Dies In Train Crash

5 Hurt, Threat of Gas From Tank Car Proves Groundless

LANDOVER, Md. (AP)—One man was killed and five others injured early today when two Pennsylvania Railroad locomotives, each pulling a string of freight cars, collided.

An explosion followed by a spectacular fire took place some three hours after the wreck when gas, spewing from a break in a tank car ignited. No one was injured in the blast. The fire was brought quickly under control.

The dead man was identified as Harry Wayne Edwards, 48, Oxford, Md., engineer on a yard locomotive which was shifting a string of 18 cars.

Near Highway
The second train was an 80-car freight, southbound from New York to Washington.

The site of the collision is at the intersection of U.S. Route 50 and State Road 282 in Chertsey, Md. The railroad line at that point parallels a four-lane highway leading to nearby Washington, D.C.

Railroad officials said at least 28 freight cars had gone off the rails. At least 15 were piled up at the point of collision.

The whole area was blocked off for a time on account of a break in one reported to be loaded with liquid nitrogen which police believed might be explosive. The ban was lifted when Army chemical experts advised the chemical can be ignited only under rare conditions.

Firemen still trained hoses on rings of fire around the main wreckage four hours after the wreck, which occurred about 3:50 a.m.

Manitowoc to Help Pay for Expanded Water Data Study

Lake Michigan City Could be Intake Point for Appleton Line

Informal agreement has been reached between Appleton and Manitowoc officials to share costs of an expanded survey related to a possible joint Lake Michigan water-tapping venture. Several weeks ago the Appleton Common Council hired Consoer, Townsend and Associates, Chicago, to conduct a survey and make recommendations concerning a long range water supply from either Lake Michigan or Lake Winnebago. It has been estimated the survey will cost between $15,000 and $20,000, being completed in about eight months.

The council earlier in the year went on record favoring the abandonment of the Fox River as the city's water source.

Mitchell Contracted Since the main study was launched, Manitowoc officials indicated interest in a lake-tapping project and contacted Appleton Mayor Clarence Mitchell. An informal meeting was held and it was estimated by Leo F. Rehm of the Chicago firm that including Manitowoc in the research and report would cost an additional $3,000.

Mayor Walker Koepke of Manitowoc informed Mitchell the common council has agreed to pay half the additional survey expense.

The Appleton Board of Public Works recommended Tuesday that the council go along with the expanded survey and include Manitowoc. It will be acted on at tonight's council meeting.

A letter from Rehm, read at the board meeting, indicated it would be to the advantage of Appleton and Manitowoc to explore the joint Lake Michigan venture.

"As we understand Manitowoc has offered to pay for one half the $2,500 fee for the development of preliminary plans, project cost estimates, and all project costs of raw and treated water delivered by a lake intake, raw water pumping station and treatment plant at Lake Michigan."

Rehm said it was his firm's opinion Appleton has as much to gain if not more than Manitowoc by knowing the facts determined by such a study.

"This study could show more economic feasibility for a Lake Michigan supply for Appleton than a source from Lake Winnebago," Rehm wrote.

"Unit costs of water for Appleton could be substantially different with the Manitowoc combination," Rehm added. Rehm also indicated Manitowoc officials have informally agreed to pay another $750 for a report outlining the aspects of that city going to the lake alone.

Koepke and Richard E. Canard, general manager and chief engineer for the Manitowoc utilities, have pledged their cooperation in making statistical information available to the consultants, who will project the city's future population and water demands.

The overall survey, encompassing many aspects of a multi-million dollar pumping station and pipeline, will be estimated along the lines of Appleton and Manitowoc undertaking the project jointly, or having the two cities along with Neenah, Menasha, Kimberly, Combined Locks, Little Chute and Kaukauna participating.

Intake Near Manitowoc One phase will deal with having the intake and water pumping station at the shore of Lake Michigan at Manitowoc. Another will relate to filtering a water treatment and filtration plant in the same vicinity.

The report will also recommend whether present water plant facilities of Appleton and other communities comprising the Fox Cities complex can be used, all or in part, or have to be completely abandoned.

Supt. William Gallaher and members of the Appleton Water Commission have informed Mitchell they favor including Manitowoc in the study.

New London Will have two contestants bidding for the honor of being an Alice in Dairyland Princess at the regional contest in Kaukauna Saturday. Both girls, Johanna Brown, left, and Julie Ott are students at Oshkosh State College. Pastor of Bethany Evangelical Free Church in Clintonville Will be Recipient of Rites DALE R. LEANDER — The Rev. Mrs. Norman Werner, wife of the pastor of the Shiocton Congregational Church, will be ordained at a special service in the church at 3 p.m. Sunday.

Visiting clergymen who will participate in the service are Dr. Wilbert Norton, president of the Trinity College and Divinity School of Chicago and Danville, Ill., who will give the ordination address, the Rev. Gordon Kling, superintendent of the Great Lakes district of the Evangelical Free Church of America, who will lead the service, and will present the charge to the candidate, and the Rev. Donald Holsten, pastor of the Carme, Mich., Evangelical Free Church, who will give the charge to the congregation.

The Rev. Robert Christiansen, pastor of the Evangelical Free Church, Stanley, Wis., will read scripture and lead in prayer.

German Language Camp for Youth Planned at Waupaca Area Lake

Venture Is First Attempted in Wisconsin; UW-M Professor in Charge of Organization

Waldland, a German language camp for children and the first venture of this type in Wisconsin, will be conducted at Shadow Lake Retreat near Waupaca Aug. 16 to 23.

The camp will be directed by Dr. Erhard M. Friedrichsmeyer of the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee Department of German. He and a friend conducted a similar camp in Minnesota for three years.

The camp will provide formal instruction in German, camp activities in which German is used and an atmosphere as representative of German culture as possible. It is open to boys and girls 10 to 12 years of age.

"Children are more capable of assimilating a foreign language than adults," Dr. Friedrichsmeyer said. "Especially at this age when they are extremely capable of grasping the rudimentary aspects of pronunciation which can be difficult for someone older."

Environment Important "It is important to expose children to a foreign language in an environment as typical of the foreign country as possible, so they do not feel it as a classroom experience but identify themselves with something like camping, which they enjoy more than the classroom," he said.

In addition to the usual camp activities such as swimming, boating, games, arts and crafts, there will be two formal classes each day for the study of German, attended by all campers, and several smaller group sessions for review and personal instruction. Children will not be required to speak German in their play, but instructions for games will be in German. The shift to German in the classroom will be gradual, but after one week no English will be spoken in the classroom.

At the camps he helped conduct in Minnesota, children conversed in German in classes after the second week, Dr. Friedrichsmeyer said. Enrollment at these camps tripled in three years.

Hate Start Camp plans had a late start because of difficulty in locating a campsite, the professor said.

The camp is a private venture. Consultants are Dr. William Jenkins, associate dean of the School of Education, and Dr. Eugene Norwood, chairman of the Department of German, both of the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, and Dr. Herman Ramras, professor in the University of Minnesota.

Dr. Friedrichsmeyer was born in North Dakota and grew up in Germany. On his return to the United States after World War II, he graduated from Lakeland College, Sheboygan, in 1952, took graduate work at the University of Wisconsin and earned his doctorate at the University of Minnesota.

Camp tuition cost of $60 includes two weeks' board and room, insurance, instruction, instructional materials and books.

lot provided no parking meters were installed.

The council has assured the firm the lot will never be used for anything but a parking lot. O. W. Capener, New London attorney representing the firm, told the council he has informed the company of the council's decision, but he added he did not know if it would have any bearing on the firm's construction plans.

The only indication Capener gave as to what store sought the concessions was that it would be one of the three largest grocery chains in the nation. Evan Stern, who owns a share of Quality Markets, questioned the council's decision asking if the ruling to dedicate the lot would obligate the council if it ever wanted to use the lot for anything else, such as a new city hall. City Atty. Sigurd Krutue said it would be possible to revoke the resolution but the action could be fought by adjoining property owners.

Seeks Utility Tax A letter from the New London Reinkober Tuesday night, asking its share of the utility tax refund which was received from the state last December was read to the council. Krutue said the city is required to turn over to the district a portion of the refund and that council action was not needed.

Mrs. Melva Rickaby was instructed to pay the school district $4,794, which is 50 per cent of the refund received by the city.

A 187-foot extension to E. Hancock Street was approved by the council. The street extension will involve property owned by Russell Hotchkiss, Arthur Lyon and Louis Meshnick.

Water Probe at Chilton Hit Again by Deposit of Deteriorated Limestone

Material Seeps Into Hole; City May Seek New Location for Well

CHILTON — Well and water problems are continuing to plague city officials.

Well drillers at the new well site again encountered a deposit of decomposed limestone approximately 130 to 140 feet below the surface.

Material discovered at a test well drilled about 400 feet east of the No. 1 pumping station at Pennsylvania Avenue and E. Main Street is so fine it can pass through screen which water cannot. It fills in the test making drilling impossible.

When the limestone was found, it was decided to move about 10 feet to the west of the test hole in hopes of escaping the troublesome deposit.

Driller Ewald Mileager said Thursday the material was encountered throughout the drilling operation.

Telescope Casings At the present time a 24-inch casing has been installed to the 87-foot level, an 18-inch casing was put inside the larger and sunk to 88-feet, and inside both is a 12-inch casing down to 137 feet.

Mileager said the limestone is entering the hole somewhere between 137 and 175 feet.

Overnight fillin of the decomposed stone often reaches a depth of 25 feet. It then hardens and drillers must redrill through the material before the hole can be deepened.

Utilities Commissioner Vincent Reinkober Tuesday night told the city council that other attempts may have to be made at a different location in order to get an efficient producing well.

Suggests Test Site He suggested testing the old Carnation Company well near the east city limits to see if it would be possible to drill a well in that area.

This is near the No. 5 well and its water supply may be effected, Reinkober said. The council approved the plan to check the Carnation Co. well.

If the attempt to develop the new well fails, the city may try to drill a well in the vicinity of the Carnation Co.

$1.4 Million Needed for Construction

NEW LONDON — Two plans for the sale of $1.4 million in bonds for construction of a new high school were presented to the board of education Tuesday night.

Outlining the proposals was a representative of the T. G. Evenness and Associates, Inc., consultants who have been contracted to sell the school bonds. One of the proposals called for the sale of bonds which would expire in 17 years and the other for a 20-year term.

The 17-year plan calls for an interest rate of 3.2 per cent while the 20-year plan calls for a 3.3 per cent rate. The 17-year plan would require an average annual tax rate increase of $2.85 per $1,000 of equalized valuation and the 20-year plan would increase the rate by $2.53.

Averages were based on the district's 1962 equalized valuation of $39,211,200.

Sell in August The bonding should be sold in August of this year and then reinvested. By investing the money at a rate of 4 per cent interest, he said, the district could realize a $20,000 profit before the money was needed for building purposes.

Tuesday's meeting was a continuation of the regular board meeting of May 12 when bus bid review took up most of the time.

Two buses were purchased from Freiburger Garage. The bid accepted by the board was low and included all options including power steering, air brakes and other heavy duty equipment.

The two units will be equipped with 60-passenger Wayne bodies also purchased on low bid.

All-Male Cast Country Club Slates 'Frolics' at Waupaca

WAUPACA—Waupaca Country Club's "Spring Frolics of 1964," featuring an all-male cast of 44, will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday in Waupaca High School.

Mrs. Robert Richards, producer, reports all of the men have been faithfully practicing for what promises to be a "first" in the Waupaca entertainment world.

The new trim look of the business and professional men is due to the extensive rehearsals as the men went through their pirouetting, high kicking and chorus line antics for the frolics.

List 'Bunnies'

The "bunnies" in the "Playboy Bunny" act are Douglas Hadley, Robert Weller, Robert Niemuth, Fire Chief James "Bob" Hansen and Gerald Knoepfel.

George Lorenz, high school instructor who starred in the tenor vocal role of the Waupaca Fine Arts Festival's presentation of "Elijah," will do an impersonation of the young, Shirley Temple, in "The Good Ship Lollipop."

The "Limbo Dolls" are Herb Penn and Jay Richards. They will be attired in Jamaican costumes.

Dr. John Steiner as "Too Loose La Tree" and William Atwell as Eartha Kitt will present "Let's Fall In Love" and "My Heart Belongs to Daddy."

Bubble Bath

Dale Simpson will sing while taking a bubble bath on the stage during the "All Alone" act.

Al Lindscoog and Otto Busch will be a hillbilly duet in "Home and Jethro." Ervin Nicholson will present a dance in "Emmett and Margie."

"The Whistlers" will feature Ward Fox, William Engel, Robert Knerr, and George Nehm. Gerald Knoepfel will do a "Gypsy Rose Lee" number.

Flower Dance

Dance of the flowers will be the selection of Les Thomack, Elmer Dusbek and Eugene Spindt. "The Beetles" will be Arthur Krueger as Ringo, Gib Kizer as John, Leonard Smith as Paul and Vic Billmeyer as George. Their song will be "She Loves Me."

Featured in the "Miss Universe" contest will be C. K. Petersen as Miss Spain, Robert Richards as Miss Alaska, Attorney Richard Johnson as Miss Arabia, Luayn Gyldenvand as Miss China, Jeffrey Heger as Miss Russia, Leonard Peterson as Miss Holland, Ercel McPeak as Miss Africa, John Gusmer as Miss France, Les Lamkins as Miss Hawaii and Mayor Lloyd Matheson as Miss America.

Walt Sohrweide will be the "glamour girl" changing the billboards during the show.

Summer Class Schedule Set

History, Reading
Will be Offered;
Typing Considered

NEW LONDON—Schedules for a high school summer course in history and a reading program for elementary schools of the district have been completed.

The world history course will consist of two semesters. Students may enroll for credit for one or both semesters. First semester classes will be from 7:45 to 9:45 a.m. and the second semester classes will be from 10:15 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. Classes will start June 15 and continue to July 24. There will be no school July 3. Students who have signed up for this class must have their program approved by the guidance department before June 1.

Summer Typing

A summer school typing class is being considered by the board of education, Robert Sutter, high school principal, said. Commercial instructors are not in favor of conducting a summer typing class claiming students do not retain enough of what they have learned. Also it makes it difficult to teach a mixed class if the student decides to take the regular typing course during the school year, teachers said.

An enrichment program for elementary students consisting of reading, phonics and spelling will begin June 15 and continue for five weeks. The course will be available for all pupils of the New London School District, including the parochial schools.

The school day will be from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. Due to Lincoln School construction work, the elementary program will be conducted at the McKinley School. No student may be enrolled who has not been recommended by his classroom teacher, Mrs. Mona Wells, elementary supervisor, said.

A $2.50 fee will be charged to cover sundry items and equipment, payable on June 5.

Class officers are Don Clausen, president; James Johnson, vice president; and Mary Braatz, secretary-treasurer. The rose becker, Robert Plawski, Ellen Schoohs, Tony Sill, and Harold and Henry Warmbier.

The class motto is "He who looks ahead seldom falls behind."

Bob Young Gets 3 Firsts Bonduel Cops Track Crown

Weyauwega in Second With 46

BONDUEL — Coach Rush Niles' Bonduel Bears won their eighth Central Wisconsin Conference track championship in the last 12 years here Wednesday, accumulating 56½ points. Weyauwega placed a close second with 46 and Wittenberg was next in line with 38. Waupaca topped 30 points. Other teams were Amherst and Marion 12, Manawa 9, Wautoma 5 and Iola-Scandinavia 0. Bob Young led an otherwise well-balanced Bonduel thinned contingent with three first places. The Bears placed in every event but the 800. Young garnered the laurels in the 100 and 200-yard dashes and the broad jump. The versatile Bonduel stalwart equalled the 'century' mark of 10.3 in time trials.

Wittenberg's Allen Ostrowski was the meet's only double winner. Ostrowski topped the high hurdles and discus. Three records were broken in addition to Young's performance. Waupaca's Brian Erickson eclipsed the pole vault standard of 10 feet-8 inches with an effort of 11 feet-10½ inches. Larry Read, Wittenberg, broke the half-mile mark of 2:08.2 (established in 1934) with a clocking of 2:07.6. Wautoma's medal relay squad toured the distance in 3:56.4 to eclipse the old standard of 3:57.4. Wautoma notched their only points in the medley. ## Gerald Lorge Seeks Return To Senate Post

Bear Creek GOP
Incumbent Running
For His 3rd Term

Gerald D. Lorge, 42, Bear Creek Republican, announced today that he is a candidate for a third full four-year term as state senator in the 14th District.

Lorge will be opposed in the September Republican primary by George L. Buckley, 46, an Appleton attorney, who announced his candidacy two weeks ago.

The 14th Wisconsin Senate District includes all of Waupaca and Outagamie counties.

In 1954, Lorge, then Outagamie County's Second District assemblyman, won a special election to fill the unexpired term of Gordon A. Bubolz, Appleton, who resigned. Lorge was re-elected by comfortable margins in the 1956 and 1960 elections. He began serving in the Assembly in 1960.

"Financial Crisis" In announcing his re-election plans today, Lorge laid the blame for "Wisconsin's forthcoming financial crisis" on former Gov. Gaylord Nelson and on Gov. John Reynolds, both Democrats.

He said, "Nelson's dangerous negative veto of the tax reform plans of the majority party in the 1959 and 1961 legislative sessions and a repudiation of Nelson's own Blue Ribbon Revenue Survey Study Committee, along with Reynolds' desire of placing politics over the real needs of Wisconsin," are causes of "the forthcoming financial crisis."

Lorge said he favors "complete elimination of the personal property tax, reduction of the real estate property tax, with a progressive tax base geared to keep in tune with each biennial budget."

Fleeds Guilty To Desertion, Check Counts

WAUPACA—Donald B. Williams, 22, route 1, Amherst, Tuesday was sentenced to 18 months in the State Prison, Waupun, on a charge of desertion and one year each on two charges of writing worthless checks.

He was sentenced in County Court by Judge Wendell McHenry.

Williams, who pleaded guilty to all three charges, was arrested in Colorado and returned to Waupaca County April 14 by Sheriff Loran Frazier.

Judge McHenry stayed the execution of the sentences, which were to run concurrently, and placed Williams on probation to the State Department of Public Welfare for two years.

Diet. Atty. Gerald K. Anderson charged Williams with writing a check for $10 Feb. 24 and a check for $5 Feb. 25. Both of the checks were drawn on an Amherst bank and were cashed by Mrs. Glen Johnson.

Williams also was charged with deserting his wife and six children Feb. 29. The complaint was signed by Mrs. Joan Lois Williams.

Williams also was charged with youth and reduce all local property taxes.

He cited "Wisconsin's growing population and shift from rural to urban is such that we must meet the new challenges affecting employment, agriculture, industry and recreation, not only from the fiscal point of view to create more job opportunities, but also by encouraging regional planning, zoning, highway construction, conservation of natural resources, development of recreational facilities and upgrading public education at all levels."

Committee Work Lorge is chairman of the Senate's committee on labor, insurance, taxation and banking, is a member of the committee on legislative procedure, serves on the Legislative Council, and is chairman of the special insurance study committee.

Lorge was born and educated in Bear Creek and received his law degree from Marquette University in 1952. He was a candidate for the vacant U.S. Senate seat caused by the death of Joseph R. McCarthy in 1957, and sought the GOP convention endorsement for lieutenant governor in 1962.

He served in the Marine Corps four years during World War II, and is a member of the Moose, Disabled American Veterans, American Legion, Knights of Columbus, and the national, state and Outagamie County bar associations.

He is married and has three children.

Two Found Guilty Of Smuggling Fish

Two Oshkosh men were found guilty Tuesday by a six-man jury in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 of smuggling fish. Both will be sentenced Friday.

John Samz, 38, and Russell Obermeier, 27, had pleaded innocent of the charges when arraigned May 8. Samz also was found guilty of being a repeater under conservation laws. The men are free on bond until sentencing.

Seminar on Code Slated At UW Center

A lawyers' seminar on the Wisconsin Uniform Commercial Code will be held from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. May 28 at the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center.

The seminar is part of an introductory program on the code presented by the Institute of Continuing Legal Education for Wisconsin in cooperation with bar associations in four counties, including those of Outagamie and Winnebago counties.

The code, which becomes effective July 1, 1965, has been in preparation for several years. During the time the Wisconsin Legislative Council prepared the UCC, Winnebago, Outagamie and Waupaca counties were represented on the council by Sen. William Draheim, Neenah; Sen. Gerald Lorge, Bear Creek; and Assemblyman Richard E. Peterson, Waupaca.

Darwin E. Smith and S. Norman Mae of the Kimberly-Clark Corp. sat with the commercial code committee of the council and made important contributions, according to institute personnel at Madison.

Program speakers will be Orin Helstad, UW associate professor of law, and Gordon Smith, Jr., Milwaukee attorney. Helstad is project coordinator for the forthcoming handbook on Wisconsin's UCC.

New London Blasts Waupaca, Board Studies 79-39 in Track Meet Monday 2 Bond Plans

By winning ten first places to Waupaca's four, New London overwhelmed the Cornets in a track meet, 79-39, at Waupaca Monday afternoon.

Every event set a new meet record and two school records for Waupaca were broken. Brian Erickson upped his own pole vault record set earlier this year from 11'6¼" to 11'10¼".

Steiger to Seek Third Term as Assemblyman

OSHKOSH — Assemblyman William A. Steiger Wednesday announced he will seek a third term in the state assembly from Winnebago County's first assembly district. The district includes 13 Oshkosh wards.

Steiger, a Republican, was named chairman of the elections committee during the 1963 session of the legislature, the second youngest committee chairman in the history of the assembly. He also served on the committees on judiciary and municipalities, was on the legislative council, the Civil War Centennial Commission and was chairman of the legislative council's election laws study committee.

Steiger also served on the committees on judiciary and municipalities, was on the legislative council, the Civil War Centennial Commission and was chairman of the legislative council's election laws study committee.

Steiger also served on the committees on judiciary and municipalities, was on the legislative council, the Civil War Centennial Commission and was chairman of the legislative council's election laws study committee.

This is a new track record as well. Todd Nelson broke the school broad jump record going 20'3" to better the 20'4¼" mark set by Gary Davis in 1953. No one turned up as a double winner. Laubenstein of New London was first in the 220 and second in the 100. Langner of the Bulldogs won the 100 and was second in the pole vault. Brian Erickson of Waupaca won the pole vault and took second in the high jump. Hoier of New London won the broad jump and took second in the shot put. The results:

2 Bond Plans

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 requested payment for transporting their children home from school each day was rejected. The board does not have an established kindergarten in this part of the district and is not obligated to provide transportation. Supt. Lloyd Qualley said the children from the northern part of the district were brought to school to give them an opportunity to attend kindergarten as a courtesy until new facilities are provided at Sugar Bush. Parents were aware of this, he said.

Teacher contracts were signed for Mrs. Beatrice Kostrank, who will teach the upper branch of the special class; Miss Rita Weber, junior high mathematics and Cornelius Van der Zeyden, junior high music.

The board also accepted the resignation of William Tyleg, an 11-year veteran in the New London School system.

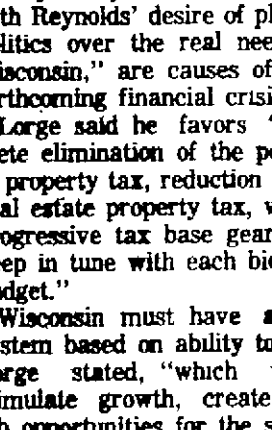

Teaching vacancies still remaining are a high school English teacher, a vocal music teacher and a chemistry teacher. A vocal music teacher is still needed in the elementary schools, Qualley said.

Meeting June 26

Hearing on Planners' Bill Slated for Appleton

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The idea of a new layer of local government in Wisconsin, coolly received in the State Legislature a year ago, will be publicly explored by a legislative interim committee on urban problems at a hearing in Appleton June 26.

The committee will hold its session there because the 1963 legislation calling for the authorization of multi-purpose service districts to administer public services in areas including a number of local governmental units was sponsored by the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission of 12 municipal members.

It was vigorously protested before the 1963 legislature by spokesmen of counties and municipalities, and died without getting substantial vote late last fall.

Appeared Doubtful
Members of the interim committee headed by Assemblyman

Harold Clemens of Waukesha appeared doubtful about the measure at their meeting here, but said they were willing to review the problems in the Fox Valley which apparently gave rise to the proposition.

As originally drafted, the suggested new governmental districts with jurisdiction over regional areas would have independent bonding and taxing power.

Assemblyman Jerome Quinn, Green Bay Republican was one of the study committee members, said he has already made up his mind on the question.

Would Add Taxes
"I feel that the people of Wisconsin are being given more government now than they can afford to pay for and creation of such a multi-service district would add to the tax load," he told his committee colleagues.

He said local governments can now organize on a mutual service basis to provide programs beyond their own territorial limits.

"While the intention is good, we must realize that it means more and more government with more and more expense," he said.

St. Therese Band Presents Concert For Association

The St. Therese Catholic School band presented its 12th annual spring concert at the May meeting of the Home-School Association.

H. A. McKenzie is the band director. Band member Steven Engel served as master of ceremonies. The junior majorettes performed to "Little Giant March," and the senior majorettes to "Anchors Away." Mrs. Dede Nagen is majorette director.

At the business meeting following the concert, the Rev. Edward A. Wagner, pastor, installed new officers for 1964-1965, and Gerald Randerson announced a drive to buy a new car for the sisters.

Father Wagner commended Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wallace, outgoing co-presidents, and other officers of this year for a job well done.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wenninger and a committee of first grade parents.

Water Supply System Expansion Approved by PSC

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Population growth and the need for reliable fire protection have required the expansion of the water supply system in the Town of Ashwaubenton, Brown County, the Public Service Commission said in an order approving the plans of the Fox River Heights Sanitary district for the expenditure of $74,218.

The money will be used to buy land, drill a well, provide new pumping and station equipment and connecting main.

The utility now has two wells, but the district has experienced a substantial growth and there is now a danger of exhaustion of the supply needed to meet the demands of individual water customers and for fire protection purposes, the district officials told the regulatory agency.

Two One-Act Dramas Set At Lawrence

Two Lawrence College student-directed one-act plays—one written by its director, the other from the pen of Belgian modernist Michel de Ghelderode—are slated for performance at 7:30 p.m. today in Stansbury Theater at the Lawrence Music-Drama Center.

Playwright-director William Mahin, a senior from Wilmette, Ill., will present his original drama, "One Petal, Falling," an adaptation of the Zen parables depicting the Buddhist sect's teachings.

Seen in the production will be Theodore Katsoff, Los Angeles, Calif.; Sean Austin, Bogota, Colombia; Robert Suszky, Maus-son; Sue Campbell, Appleton; Scott Adam, Prospect Heights, Ill., and Susan Swinehart, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Margo Wight, a junior from Dedham, Mass., will direct De tony Dodge, Chevy Chase, Md.; Kathryn Newstrom, Appleton; Gordon Lutz, Princeton, N.J.; Charles Rushton, Rochester, Minn., and Gordon Taylor, Grinnell, Iowa.

The one-acts, open to the public, are produced as partial requirements in the Lawrence College play directing course. Four more plays are scheduled on two successive Thursday nights.

Recent Madison Bureau DEBON — The hunger of main local government of s for revenues sources out-the property tax may get acknowledgment from the Legislature.

Interim committee of law-ers which will report on ur-problems to the 1965 regu-session of the lawmakers Monday to give "first pri-
" in its studies to the probof devising auxiliary money es for the support of logovernment services.

a suggestion for such a re-came from the League of min Municipalities.

Joensen of the League that higher expenditures in government are inevitable use of the rise of school welfare costs, and that un-localities can find new ways use money, local property which are already burden-ne principal problem in pubnance in this state is at the level," the league lobbyist the committee headed by mblyman Harold Clemens aukesha, deputy speaker of Wisconsin Assembly.

unson noted that any non-erty tax revenue possibil-which could be opened for hall officers would be de-ent upon state enabling tation.

here is no home rule in field of taxation and fie," he reminded.

unson warned that the state tax credits applied to local erty taxpayer relief will be come by rising local tax by 1965. The state tax t plan was inaugurated the first state sales tax ram was enacted by the legislature.

committee discussions noted income and sales taxes at municipal level are fairly mon in other parts of the

State Building Group Okays School Funds

Remodeling and Repairs Approved At UW, Colleges

MADISON (AP)—One million dollars for remodeling and repair projects at the University of Wisconsin and the state colleges was allocated by the State Building Commission Wednesday.

The commission also gave final approval for a $4.1 million biotron at the University's Madison campus. The development will provide controlled environment rooms for the study of plant and animal life. It will be financed by grants from the federal government and private foundations.

In another action, the commission authorized the use of $415,000 to build two new housing units at the Wales School for Boys, and $40,000 for equipment at the Sheboygan university extension center.

The largest of the state college requests was $200,000 to remodel Harrington Hall at Oshkosh. Other projects included $100,000 for Whitewater, $90,000 to replace the roof of South Hall at River Falls, $31,500 for intramural athletic fields at Platteville, $18,000 for a dome on the science observatory at Superior and $25,000 to repair the roof of Schofield Hall at Eau Claire.

The university also received $200,000 to remodel Bascom Hall and $102,000 to remodel the home economics building.

The commission approved a university request for authority to consolidate in a $9.8 million complex the art and art education building, the music hall and the history classroom building. The lower campus development project also will include the $3.3 million Elvehjem Art Center.

Stevenson Says U. S. to Help Stop Red Assaults

of Cambodia, Stevenson offered these three additional suggestions:

—That the council request Cambodia and South Viet Nam to establish a substantial military force on a bilateral basis to observe and patrol the frontier and report to U.N. Secretary General U Thant.

—That the bilateral force be augmented by U.N. observers and possibly placed under U.N. command to provide an impartial third party element "representing the world community."

—That an all U.N. force be established to patrol the border. This would be more expensive, but if this was proved desirable "the United States will be prepared to contribute."

Stevenson branded as "malicious fairy tales, charges made by the Soviet Union on Tuesday that the United States was organizing military action against the people of the Indochinese Peninsula.

The debate took place against a backdrop of intense diplomatic activity concentrated primarily on halting the Communist drive against the neutralist Laotian government of Prince Souvanna Phouma.

France declared that the only solution of the Laotian crisis is guaranteed neutrality. It urged that neutrality be extended to all Southeast Asia, including Viet Nam.

In Laos Souvanna threw his entire seven-plane airforce into the battle to maintain the final neutralist foothold on the Plaines Des Jarres.

Critical of Russia

When the council opened debate Tuesday, the United States accused the Soviet Union of trying to enlarge the discussion of Cambodia's charges to "a general examination of the role of the United States in the war in Viet Nam."

Later, with word of the continuing Communist military success in Laos, the United States apparently decided to turn the council to a general examination of Southeast Asia.

U.S. officials were reported to believe, however, that it will take more than words to convince the Asian Communists that the United States will not permit the Reds to take over Southeast Asia.

U. S. Takes Firm Stand

The State Department moved to clear the way for any decision President Johnson may reach on dealing with this threat. It warned that the United States is willing to take any measures that may be necessary to preserve the independence and neutrality of Laos.

The statement indicated the United States had abandoned its stand of stopping short of military intervention in Laos.

In Laos, Prince Souphannouvong, the leader of the Communists, offered peace terms. With his Pathet Lao troops in control of the strategic Plaine des Jarres and nearly 60 per cent of the rest of Laos, the Red Kingdom divided kingdom.

House Defeats Agriculture Money Bill

BY FRANCES MCKENRICK

WASHINGTON — Members of the Wisconsin House delegation today split 8 to 4 on strictly party lines on a motion, to the agriculture appropriations bill for fiscal year 1965 which, if approved, would have prevented the shipment of government surplus wheat to communist countries.

Voting for the motion which was defeated 186 to 187 were Reps. Henry K. Van Pelt, Melvin R. Laird, John W. Byrnes and Alvin O'Konski, all Republicans.

Voting against the motion were Reps. Robert W. Kastenmeier, Clement J. Zablocki, Henry S. Reuss and Lester R. Johnson.

Voting on the legislation came in the form of a motion to send the agriculture money bill back to the appropriations committee with instructions to change it by adding the restriction against sale of government-subsidized wheat being sold to Russia and other countries within the Communist orbit.

Republican members of the Badger state delegation have consistently gone on record against sale of wheat to Russia ever since the late President Kennedy proposed it nearly a year ago.

At that time, Congressman Byrnes predicted that if the United States did sell the wheat to Russia, then other countries outside of the iron curtain would

These predictions came to pass with the sale of busses to Cuba by England and the shipment of other goods to Cuba from Canada.

France Wants Meeting

France Wednesday called on Britain and the Soviet Union, as cochairmen of the Geneva conference on Laos, to convene another meeting of the 14 nations that guaranteed Laotian neutrality in 1962.

Foreign Minister Chen Yi of Red China said last week that the Geneva conference might have to be reconvened. The Soviet Union also favors this step.

Red China cited the 1962 Geneva accords on Tuesday when Britain asked for help in pacifying the divided kingdom.

dates is headed by Warren P. Knowles of New Richmond, who wants to be governor. The GOP ticket then turns to incumbents seeking re-election. They are Lt. Gov. Jack Olson, Secretary of State Robert Zimmerman, Atty. Gen. George Thompson, and State Treasurer Denis Smith.

For Renk, convention endorsement will be a new experience. He fought the Republican state organization in 1962 in an unsuccessful attempt to whip the convention's choice for governor, Philip G. Kuehn of Whitefish Bay, in the primary.

The two-day convention will be the scene of activity both inside and out of the Milwaukee Arena. The Madison Chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) has announced it will picket the convention to protest the lack of civil rights legislation in the last session of the Legislature.

A civil rights plank will be made part of the Republican campaign platform. But the statement is not expected to voice a specific position on the civil rights bill being debated in the U.S. Senate.

Another platform plank has been drafted to credit the Legislature's GOP majority, rather than Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds, with legislation to ease the property taxes of the retired. The plank is widely embarrassing to Knowles, who last week criticized the aid to the elderly program as a "political giveaway."

Lawrence Says
GOP Actions
Not Best for Party Harmony

Negative Attitudes Never Win Favor
For Political Party

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The Republican party certainly needs a psychiatrist or a mentor of some kind to save it from suicide. There is no more certain way to break a party into pieces than to do what the California campaign manager for Henry Cabot Lodge did when he announced that all the strength that might have been mobilized for Ambassador Lodge would be thrown to Governor Rockefeller in the California primary.

This is an amazing announcement. It means, in effect, that there are those in the Republican party who are far more interested in knocking off someone who is likely to get the nomination than in presenting on his merits a rival candidate with a different or even better appeal.

Negative attitudes never have won prestige for a party. They have resulted in nearly every instance in a disunity that has sacrificed the final election.

Senator Goldwater, on the face of it, seems to have the largest number of delegates thus far, and this has led his opponents to have a desperate and frantic maneuver to block him at all costs. The move is reprehensible because the only effective way to defeat a front-runner is to present someone else who is better able to articulate the issues in a way that will appeal to a larger number of voters.

Perhaps the most sensible man on the sidelines today among the leaders of the Republican party is former President Eisenhower. He never has been regarded as a politician, but he certainly has always displayed common sense and the courage of his convictions. In an interview the other night with Walter Cronkite of CBS, the former president said several things which were not printed in the newspapers generally. So it's pertinent to quote, for example, the following:

"I am trying, first of all, to be one individual who is not becoming involved too much in the personal campaigns of individuals, so there is to be at least one to preach the doctrine of party unity and who, believing like I think all of us do—in the two-party system, will be in the position probably to soothe ruffled feelings."

"I think this is important because on one side we hear some individuals saying, 'Well, if so-and-so is nominated, I don't think I could support him,' and on the other side, you will hear another say, 'Well, we might just walk out of the convention,' or words to that effect."

"Now I think this is all very childish and is very bad. But if we are going to fight this type of inner struggle, then I think it's more than ever important that someone is in a position to say, 'Now let's get together and be Republicans and not be babies.'"

When asked whether his position of neutrality would not perhaps work out in Senator Goldwater's favor, Mr. Eisenhower said:

"Well, I don't know. But I think this: I personally believe that Senator Goldwater is not as extreme as some people have made him. But, in any event, we are all Republicans. We all have a certain set of basic principles, and the problem has come about in how we apply them to the issues of the day. And if we don't have some kind of consensus, why then everybody wants to run away, or they talk like they are going to run away. I will say this—in the other party, when it comes to election time, they all coalesce, and I think it's time we were doing it."

Goldwater Principle
When asked specifically whether the principles for which Senator Goldwater stands would satisfy Mr. Eisenhower at the San Francisco convention, the former president replied:

"Sometimes it's a little bit difficult to figure out exactly what any individual means. Now, I have been reading some of Senator Goldwater's position papers and, for example, he has made a long explanation of what he meant when he first said, 'I want to sell TVA down in Tennessee.' The way he tells it in explanation, it is not a radical move, at all—it's just getting private enterprise into a lot of things that are now the government's doing."

"But, you see, a statement made during the past months and years that is now taken as gospel—it means to the average citizen that somebody is very much to the right or to the left and otherwise. And this applies to the other other announced candidate. So what I am trying to do is to be able to do my part in getting this party together. That's what I really want to do."

Preconvention Campaigns
Every preconvention campaign is naturally a contest between different sets of views. But in the long history of political parties, there has been, for the most part, a tolerance of differences of opinion and an effort to compromise and reconcile conflicting viewpoints. Rarely does any faction within a party issue an ultimatum and say that under no circumstances would it support a candidate who holds opposing views. This kind of threat merely aggravates the situation and intensifies friction.

To gang up on Senator Goldwater today is a wrong tactic, and it is surprising that the move has not been repudiated by the top men in the Rockefeller and Lodge organizations. For it's not the way to produce harmony in a political party which, after the convention, must do battle against the opposing party.

Is it proper to call for Gordon's by name
in English Pubs?

It's not a matter of being proper. It's unnecessary. For when most Englishmen ask for gin, they expect to get Gordon's. After all, its distinctive dryness and delicate flavour have been a part of English life for 195 years. Americans, however, have been enjoying Gordon's for a somewhat shorter span of time. So it is wise (and proper) to specify Gordon's by name. Your first sip of a Gordon's martini will tell you why it's the biggest selling gin over here as well as in England and the rest of the world.

Strives to Please

Johnson—the Busiest President Since Teddy

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — "The presidency," the man said, "is no place for a timid soul or a torpid spirit." Later, he added this: "I strive to please."

The man is Lyndon B. Johnson, who will be in the White House six months Friday. He's been neither timid nor torpid. Anything but.

And he's been so anxious to please he has acted like a one-man rescue squad for anything that ails the country.

He's been the bounciest president since Theodore Roosevelt and more willing to stick his neck out than any president since Harry S. Truman.

Happy Georgians
He went into the heart of the segregation country — Atlanta — to make a speech on civil rights and was almost mobbed by happy Georgians.

He promised to shut down needless military bases and got surprisingly little bad reaction, although if there's anything a congressman doesn't like it is a base shut down in his district.

He asked business and labor leaders to dinner at the White House — but not at the same time — and asked the former to keep down prices and the latter to keep down wage demands.

Both groups liked him, although this doesn't mean they'll do what he asked. This week the AFL-CIO said it wouldn't.

It's in trying to please that he outdid himself, if that's possible.

You're old? He's pushing a health care program. You're poor? He has an antipoverty program. You need money? He got Congress to approve a tax cut. You like to travel? He hopes to have a man on the moon by 1970.

You're a woman? He's made a production of putting women in good government jobs. You want more pay? He's asked Congress to broaden the minimum wage law and in some cases require double-time pay for overtime.

He even thought of people who like big muscles. He has a physical fitness program with Stan Musial, a baseball great, in charge. Or maybe you're a tightwad who wants tightwads in government. He's thought of that, too.

He cut the budget and goes around turning off White House lights to save on electricity, although he's probably running up the biggest presidential telephone bill in history, calling people to get on the ball.

He uses the telephone like a third arm. He gets little sleep, works day and night, and, so the rumor goes, holds his friends up by the ears to get things done.

No president in memory has kept reporters panting so far trying to keep up with him, on foot, on wheels and on paper.

In one spurt he made 30 speeches in two weeks. He traveled the Appalachian trail twice, visited the World's Fair and shook hands with White House tourists. He dances as long as there's a woman left standing at White House shindigs, and holds news conferences on the spur of the moment or while trotting six times around his garden.

Rail Dispute

With all that said, the next question is: How's he doing? Fine, from all accounts. He's riding so high in popularity polls the Republicans, in this presidential election year, seem to have had some of the steam taken out of them.

Perhaps his greatest single-handed achievement — in the sense of working at it personally — was getting the rail dispute settled. It had seemed impossible but the result electrified him. Then he really started walking and talking.

If knowing how to deal with members of Congress helps a president, Johnson ought to set a record. He was in Congress himself 24 years, a longer service than any president before taking office. And he's working at it.

He has had success on some things — like a tax cut, a farm program, a foreign aid bill he could live with — but all the big tests lie ahead, at home and abroad, and the country should know far more about him by election time.

His major programs are still hung up in Congress, like civil rights and health care. His problems abroad haven't been back-breaking so far but they may become so soon, particularly in Southeast Asia.

2 School Board Members Won't Seek Brillion Post

BRILLION—Two long term officers and members of the board of education have announced they do not plan to seek re-election.

They are Harrison Weaver, president of the board, and Earl Pitzner, treasurer.

Weaver cited increased business activity and as influencing his decision not to run. He has served on the board nine years, six as president. He also had the offices of clerk for two years and director for one year. In addition, he served on both the building and curriculum committees. Weaver said he would serve in an advisory capacity.

Pitzner also cited increased business activities as his reasons for not seeking re-election. He served on the board 12 years. He has been treasurer for the last ten years and for the first two years was president of the board. Pitzner also will serve in an advisory capacity.
